By MARIE MONAHAN

Me & My Shadow . . .

STROLLING Down the Avenue . . . The Fair Sex swarming into Virginia Hammond's for her moving sale . . . Here, Jan Soubielle, Orinda Woman's Club president, picking her way through the jewelry pickings . . . Clarice Johnson waiting patiently w/a purchase in hand . . . Salesgal Carey Indig ducking over to Casa O for lunch to rest her feet from the onslaught of customers.

Dorrie deMaeyer rifling through the racks of sale things . . . ditto Jeri Clement, who in the midst of moving, couldn't resist & found herself a fetching flapperish silk-fringed black petticoat.

OUTSIDE . . . Elizabeth Mark glimpsed over a fancy pancake next door . . . Joe Downs carefully fitting some elegant accessories into the Downs Interiors Station wagon . . . A CROWD for coffee & quick hamburgs at T-Bones & everywhere, the exchange of opinion on the recent presidential TV debate.

ALONG THE HIGHWAY, a white-haired gent, beretted & blue turtle-necked, pedalling his bicycle w/the ease of a young school kid . . . In the Lucky Parking Lot (left-hand corner) Hazel Wilcox of Hazel's Imports, w/Bill Windell (who'll decorate her shop) contemplating the heavy iron freight door which opens to her new boutique . . . A passerby suggesting she call her shop "The Iron Door" & Hazel considering until she decided it had more the saloon sound than the salon sound. She expects to open shop w/Tues Unique the end of the month.

UP TO PINE GROVE SCHOOL to join the jeune fille for lunch & Mmmm, but those sweet southern rolls were good, fairly melt in your mouth & if you asked Cook Viola Douglas for the recipe, like most good cooks she'd tell you "I just threw them together!"

One of the boys w/a funny story about teacher Miss Rathert . . . seems the class came into the room to find the following message written backwards on the blackboard—"Help, I'm caught behind the blackboard."

Rumors around town via Oakland that The Gray Shop will open its fashionable doors here . . . Saw Gwynn Donchin tooling around town w/her trio of younger tots. She & her medic husband Jerry recently got away from it all (6 children, a donkey, hamsters, etc.) to the salubrious serenity of that place Puerto Vallarta.

DROPPED in to have coffee w/Lois Pixley but she wouldn't even look up from her book—Miehener's HAWAII . . . except to tell me—& how IN can you get? Lefty Kilpatrick brought two copies of same—one to read herself & one to loan (lend?) out to friends . . .

SHADES of Bizet's Carmen fell upon our ears, the magnificent tones of the operatic tenor-hornplayer working up the hill at the Jim Jackson's . . . Who has to go to SF? The whole Acacia Drive neighborhood has been treated to operatic arias all week . . . & they love it! Someone asked Eleanor Jackson "Does he charge extra for the singing?"

Grab your coat, forget your hat!

HOLD ON TO YOUR Coats for then we took in Rug Braiding Class at the Laf. Vets Hall . . . Here, Mildred Austin, Helen Miller, some of the ladies making the handsome heirloom pieces . . . Helen w/the news that the Howard Fishers will be Grandparents in March, ditto the Carl Smiths! Kit Newman in to start a hooked rug.

The Greeks have a word for it, but we call it "pledging" which is what Sylvia Ann Silva, daughter of Ernest Silva has done—Kappa Kappa Gamma at Fresno State. Sylvia had the star lead in the Sr. play at Miramonte last term. Her chum, Joan Robinson, dgtr. of the Boone Robinson just joined the neophyte ranks of Chi Omega at Willamette College, Oregon.

At Orinda Motors, Jim Hendrickson filling Ken Courtright's car w/gas saw the low-flying plane in the fog & remarked to Ken—"That guy will never make it!"—then CRASH!

IN ORINDA STORE, the biggest real strawberries we've ever seen, at 65 per basket . . . None of those gorgeous mushrooms on sale but succumbed to some fake strawberries in the gift shop. The kids can't eat THOSE, but they'll try!

A TELEPHONE CALL at home from Margaret Kessler, UNICEF Chrmn, who is taking it "easy" this yr. & didn't have to twist our wrist too much to get some help from this old sofie . . . Her gripping account of last spring's trip to the Orient where she saw UNICEF at work in the desolate areas of India, Formosa, Hong Kong & Japan. When UNICEF comes Trick or Treating Halloween, remember that a little donation goes a long way in helping the unfortunates in other countries combat malnutrition, Trachoma, TB & mass diseases . . . Jean Henderson, Mary Grah & Fran Smith are some of those who work on this worthwhile cause.

CAN'T WE DO something to curtail the terrible candy craze of Halloween?!! What a waste of money when you figure $2 minimum is spent per family to accommodate future dental bills! How about old comic books, old toys, crayons, ANYTHING but candy!

LOOKING UP LA PLAZA, a huge Peerless Stage turning into that tiny street at 5:15 & here's the story which makes for a little UN meeting of its own in Suburbia—

Kirk Miles, Shell man, leaving that morning to meet a busful of visiting (Bitumin) men from Shell's International labs who had cross-countryed, visiting the company's research spots here, was asked by wife Lid if during their month's stay any of them had been guests in American homes. Kirk said, no, not enough time for that, so Lid said casually "Call me if you think they'd like to see a little of our suburban home life."

Mid-afternoon, the fun began when the phone rang, Kirk w/the news that he would bring a dozen men home w/him for a few hours pre-dinner.

THE NEIGHBORS were alerted, the kids were curious & peering from here & there when the enormous Peerless Stage pulled up & unloaded the guests from Singapore, New Zealand, Australia, Switzerland, Brussels, Paris, Italy, etc. . . all of whom spoke English w/great facility.

Dottie Bray ducked in w/a bouquet of flowers, someone else ran to the store to replenish the libations-larder & the international talk that prevailed was something like a little League of Nations. Lid loved it—So did the homesick guests who stood in line to show her pictures of their wives & children.

TICKETS IN a tiny tobacco pouch get you this Sat. night's evening of bucolic frolicking at Mayten's Annual Country Fair. For Maxine Osmunson at CL 4-5508 & handling the round-up & there may still be room in the old corral for YOU . . . closeby at the Laf. Vets Hall.

THE CONTINENTALLY-ethereal & dramatically beautiful home of the William Scatenas on Tarry Lane, Sleepy Hollow, will get a color-spread in the continental pages of Novita, the Vogue of Italy.

AS A CHILD we learned that some of the Best Cooking turns up at Church Suppers. As an adult we find this still holds true. Women will knock themselves out over the hot stove or the cold refig., as the care or recipe may be, to turn out a real Triumph for their church activity. This was true both at Santa Maria's Fiesta as well as the Lutheran Tasting Bee which took place recently.

GLIMPSES on the Go at the Fiesta del Orinda, the traditional September weekend project that netted the church some 6,000 dollars . . . Dan & Gina Lucas working themselves to the bone in the Groaning Board Dept., overseeing the dining room efficiently . . . Ditto Fran & Joe Navone, head chefs, assisted by Tina & Al Buerastero who were cooking w/crisco, not really, but kept those steaks coming & done to a turn . . . Mary Lavagetto lending her talents to the beans & salad served to a constant-flowing crowd all day Sunday.

On the Sunny Side of Suburbia . . .

Tables of fancy-frosted cakes by the dozens the doing of Chrmn. Tudie Little & her committee of helpers & bakers . . . Here, Lois Heywood guarding the frosted cakes from young-try fingers . . . Mary Wand one of those working on the Cake Booth outside & refilling the shelves after Bill Loughman & friends took home their winnings!

Beaming & efficient junior dining room hostesses were Rowie Loughman, sisters Sharon & Judy Cunningham, Janet Lucas serving pie w/a BIG smile, Kathy & Carol Meyer, Laurie & Donna Stalbe, Carol Gilmore tying on an apron, Carol Mansonen refilling the coffee pot . . . The Cunha clan ALL in red, young Jimmie's bandana shirt we liked!

Mary & Frank Gohr climbing the steps w/their lassies in tow . . . & Bill Lasater, Gay Tool, Gene Garbarino, Sue & Karen Natress, Christine Block more of those doing enjoying their various jobs . . . Ethel Spittler, Ernestine Angelo keeping the sno-cones coming, a favorite w/the kids.

P.S. Gina Dan Lucas due to become Grandparents second-time around ANY minute via their oldest son Edward & his wife Carole. Tillie Lucas (Edward's Aunt) hosting a shower luncheon on a recent lovely day in the pretty setting of the Lucases' resort "Wildwood Acres" & Carole literally buried under tissue & paper wraps from the fifty gifts bestowed on the baby-to-be!

THE LUTHERAN LADIES took up a "Tasting Bee" as their first fund-raising project this fall & we're glad they did! Thanks to Arlene Ludwig's "Chocolate Date Cake" recipe, which we've baked twice, we've got out of the rut of our favorite Applesauce cake.

The finishing touches going on at the handsome new Lutheran church & cars lined the roads for parking along the highway as well as up the road & around the old Lutheran Church. The first services to be held in the brand new church are set for Sunday, October 23.

Army Plane Crash Takes Six Lives

A light Army transport plane crashed into an Orinda hillside, narrowly missing a house, Friday afternoon about 3:30, killing six Army officers from Fort Ord.

The single engine plane, flying through fog, smashed against the hilltop two miles west of Orinda Village at the top of Alta Vista Road, and then hit an East Bay Municipal Utilities District water tank and burst into flames. A grass fire was set off which burned several acres before being put out by Orinda firemen.

The dead were: Major General Carl A. Fritzsche, 57, commanding general of Fort Ord; Brigadier General Thomas H. Hayes, 49, deputy commander; Chief Warrant Officer Robert K. Brown, 38, pilot; Chief Warrant Officer Kenneth R. Kiester, 38, co-pilot; Lieutenant Robert L. Fisher, 27, aide to General Hayes, and Specialist Fifth Class Donald E. Peterman, 25.

The officers were en route to the Presidio for a briefing ceremony with Courtney Johnson, assistant Secretary of Defense. General Fritzsche also planned to attend the Army-California game, where instead a moment of silence was observed at Berkeley Memorial Stadium.

A team of investigators was sent to survey the crash scene for physical evidence, to determine the cause of the accident. The team is composed of officers from Fort Ord, assisted by the Sixth Army. Findings will be announced when the investigation is completed.

Scout Contest Deadline Moved To November 1

A pup tent will be awarded to the winner of the current contest to name the new Boy Scout district in the Lafayette, Moraga and Orinda areas, it was announced this week.

Contest Chairman Joe Conley of Orinda said the deadline for the contest has been extended to November 1 so that all interested boys in the Scouting program throughout the three communities have an opportunity to enter.

The new district was formed by the division in August of the old Meridian District. The newly-formed district in the Walnut Creek area will retain the Meridian name, Conley reported.

The event is being sponsored by the Mt. Diablo Council of Boy Scouts of America and The Sun. In addition to Conley, judges for the contest are Stan Hume of Orinda, Phil Johnson and Harold Lotter of Lafayette, Ed Snekvik of Walnut Creek and Herman Silverman, editor-publisher of The Sun.

Del Rey School Welcomes New Teachers to Staff

The Del Rey children and faculty welcomed three new teachers to the staff this fall.

Joan Ballig, recipient of both AB and MA degrees from Stanford University, is teaching one of the third grade classes.

Pamelo Hasselo, a new fourth grade teacher, was graduated from the Dominican College of San Rafael last spring.

Raymond Enjaian, a San Francisco State College graduate, brings several years' experience to his new sixth grade teaching assignment. He has also assumed responsibility for the after school recreation program.

The University of California school of education has assigned five student teachers to Del Rey for the current semester. Mrs. Paula Bloom is working with Mrs. McCormack in her first grade class. Mrs. Perlmutter has Gail Rohwer with her and her third graders. At the fifth grade level Mrs. Maureen Moore and Elizabeth Rogers are working with Mrs. Speiss and Mr. Robertson respectively.

Warren Arnold is working in a sixth grade class with Mrs. Mary O'Dea as his supervising teacher.

The annual room meetings, at which the teachers explain the program of their respective grade levels, are underway. Meetings have been scheduled for evenings at 7:30 so fathers may find attendance more convenient.

Meetings were held during the week of September 19 by the teachers of kindergarten, first and second grades. Third, fourth and sixth grade teachers held their meetings last week. The final meetings by fifth grade teachers were Tuesday.

Words—there are so many interesting words we hear spoken and see printed and which make us curious—this is the theme for Mrs. Christensen's second grade language lessons at the present. The fun comes in discovering how these "big" and "unusual" words can become a part of everyday conversation and written language. The class is also using this idea to develop a bulletin board so that each student can share his new discoveries with others.

"Fall leaves" is not a particularly unusual theme for art right now, but Mrs. Durham's first grade children gave their fall leaves an added touch of elegance. They cut out leaves they had colored and mounted on brown paper and sprayed copper and silver paint around them. The effect was very striking and impressive.

Fledderman Reelected by Hacienda Homeowners

The Hacienda Improvement Association, Orinda's largest and oldest improvement group, last week reelected young attorney Harry Fledderman to a second term as president.

Officers re-elected to serve the new term with Fledderman include Ted Rimer, vice president; David Bray, treasurer; Henry Zacharias, trustee; and Andrew Hartanov, trustee. Newly elected officers are Mrs. Harold Keenan, the secretary, and Mark Kermit, trustee.

Members present at the group's annual meeting in the Orinda School heard for the first time a sweeping plan of reorganization which would create within the association six separate, autonomous, smaller geographical units.

The plan results from considerable study by the officers, but will not be presented for adoption by the group until a later meeting if it is determined the members strongly favor it.

Among other matters discussed at the meeting, the proposed widening of El Toyonal was unanimously supported by the group. Paid membership in the association for the current year was reported at an all time high of 244 families.

The association includes much of Orinda west of the crossroads—both the country club and the El Toyonal areas.

Chambers Against 2 Propositions

The Associated Chambers of Commerce of Contra Costa County have voted opposition to Propositions 1 and 15 on the November ballot, it was announced today by Paul A. Tickner, association president. Proposition 1 is the $1.75 billion dollar California Water Development Bond issue, while Proposition 15 is the plan to reappointment the California State Senate.

Association members noted that, as written, Proposition 1 poses a serious threat to the economic future of Contra Costa County by drawing off of fresh water from the Delta region and allowing a high salt water intrusion into the area.

THIS WOULD affect the heavy industries on the east county shoreline, and users of the Contra Costa Canal.

Discussion also pointed out the rising state-wide fears that the proposal is not sufficient to construct the entire Feather River Project; that the $1.75 billion will place future state financing in jeopardy; the uncertainty of legislative control in the act; inequities in the repayment schedules of the act.

The association's resolution urged a no vote on Proposition 1 to allow the Department of Water Resources additional time for studies on engineering and financial feasibility and economic justification.

Opposition to Proposition 15 was based on the fact that the proposal would destroy the system of checks and balances now existing in the State Legislature between rural and urban areas. Passage of the plan would endanger statewide unity through undesirable sectional rivalry, and destroy a governmental plan that has proven itself for decades, the association noted.

DISCUSSION on the reappointment scheme brought out facts that 36 Northern California counties would lose Senate representation, 4 counties would remain even and 4 would gain less than one additional representative apiece. Also, it was pointed out that the U.S. Congress provided the pattern for California's legislative makeup, and that attempts to reappointment the state legislature have been repeatedly defeated since 1921.

League Will Discuss 15 Propositions

The League of Women Voters of Concord Diablo Valley will hold three unit meetings next week for the purpose of discussing the 15 state ballot measures.

Tuesday at 8 p.m., Mrs. Ray S. Long and Mrs. Robert Brown will lead the discussion at the home of Mrs. S. A. Anderson, 66 Audrey Lane, Pleasant Hill. Mrs. C. W. Funk and Mrs. P. H. Wilson will speak at the home of Mrs. Robert Stevens, 166 Cleopatra Drive, Pleasant Hill, Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Mrs. George Enzman and Mrs. John Kinney will speak at Mrs. Kinney's home, 821 Livorna Road, Alamo, Thursday at 1:30 p.m.

Danville Demos Will See Show

The Danville Democrats met at the Green Valley School Monday evening. A theater party is planned for October 16, to raise campaign funds and to see "The Sunrize at Campobello," the story of Franklin Roosevelt's life, which is playing at the Marina Theater in San Francisco.

Waldie Says Bills On Pornography Invaded Rights

Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie today released correspondence between his office and the Southern California citizens for Decent Literature, wherein he assured that organization of his support for legislation proposed by Attorney General Mosk to curb obscene and pornographic literature.

In the exchange of correspondence Waldie noted that the measure introduced in this area last session was subject to criticism because it provided no protection against censorship.

Considerable opposition to the bill developed when it became apparent that freedom of the press and the liberties of individuals was jeopardized.

"I have complete confidence in the attorney general being able to draft legislation which will meet this evil and yet protect our precious liberties of freedom of the press and of the individual's right to know," Waldie stated.

Political Pot

JACK AND ELEANOR Hubner, co-presidents of the Orinda-Moraga Democratic Club, have been named co-chairmen of the Kennedy for President campaign for the same area.

ASSEMBLYMAN Jerome Waldie and Douglas Page appeared at kaffeeklatches at several homes in the Danville area Tuesday. Additional meetings will be held for Assemblyman Waldie in the near future, according to Mrs. Richard Stansberry, precinct co-chairman for the Danville Democrats.

A SERIES of coffee parties have been held in the Orinda area for George Kreuger, 10th Assembly District candidate. Hostesses have included Mesdames Frances Allen, Mel Arighi, Jack Paine, Thomas Howard, Paul Oakley, Peter Muller, Peter Zische and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Manuel.

MRS. PHILIP DIAMOND, president of the Lafayette Democratic Club, has been named Lafayette chairman for the Kennedy for President campaign.

MRS. WILLIAM B. FREEMAN

has been named chairman of the John F. Baldwin for Congress Committee in the Lafayette area. Mrs. Freeman is president of the Lafayette Republican Women's Club and has directed Baldwin's campaign activities in her community during two previous campaigns.

THE PLEASANT HILL Democratic Club met Monday at the Craig Randall home in Concord. The agenda included discussions on precinct work, fund-raising and organizing kaffeeklatches for candidates Doug Page and Jerry Waldie.

GEORGE KRUEGER will speak at a coffee hour at 8 p.m. tonight at the home of Mrs. Lee Murray, 30 Medvale Court, Walnut Creek.

MARTINEZ Attorney George R. Gordon this week announced that he has accepted chairmanship of a committee of attorneys for the re-election of Assemblyman Jerome Waldie.

SENATOR George Miller Jr. will speak on current problems in California education at the meeting of the Fair Oaks PTA at 8 p.m. Monday. He will answer questions from the floor.

HOME ON THE RANGE — that's what area sportsmen are dreaming of. Their range, to be located just north of Arnold Industrial Highway, has become the major project of several clubs. Completion of New 23-Acre Range Area Sportsmen Awaiting Bonanza

All central county sportsmen and firearms enthusiasts will have the use of the 23-acre range for pistols, small and large bore rifles, trap and skeet shooting, when the United Sportsmen, Inc., has completed the project for which it was organized.

The range, located just north of Arnold Industrial Highway near Willow Pass Road, is still only an open field, but grading operations will begin soon.

The County Planning Commission has toured the area, and a use permit has been issued.

THE HARD work of creating a full size range and the necessary facilities for initial use will be done by the parent group, which was created by four area sportsmen's clubs.

They are the Walnut Creek Sportsmen, Diablo Rod and Gun Club, Concord Sportsmen and the Bay Point Rod and Gun Club.

The range will be the biggest in Contra Costa County, and the only National Rifle Association-approved range within 40 miles of the central area, said Art Evans, United Sportsmen president. Members hope to have the range open seven days a week, eventually, and when lights are installed, also during certain nights, he said.

THE PURCHASE of the land for about $18,000 is being financed by club members who are buying non-interest bearing certificates. The certificates will be redeemed according to a schedule.

Some money for range improvements is anticipated from the United Sportsmen's striped bass derby, which runs through November 13, and is awarding a 15 foot boat with 45 horse power motor and other valuables.

Evans, who succeeded Ken Faunce, the United Sportsmen's organizing president, has a roster of officers and directors to assist him.

Officers are Jim Monk of Walnut Creek, vice president; Dave Hammond of Pittsburg, secretary; Bill Claudell of Concord, treasurer.

THERE ARE five directors from each of the four clubs. Walnut Creek Sportsmen are represented by Monk, Bob Myer, Jim Turner, Jack Frazier, Dick Hinkson. Alternate director is Dan Polk.

Area sportsmen have been looking for their own big range for a long time.

Last February, they decided to combine their manpower and financing ability.

There are still some other ranges in the central county, but they do not fill the bill.

THERE IS a temporary range in Danville, a pistol range in Pittsburg. The Diablo Rod and Gun Club has a trap range. Also the Concord and Walnut Creek Police Departments have their own specialized ranges.

All of us have been looking over this home market pretty thoroughly lately and it seems that anybody can advertise just about the same things, feature-wise. Like electric kitchens, family rooms, 3 bedrooms and so on. You name them, they've got 'em. So have we.

But what we have found out is that most don't have quality construction. We have! And you have the advantage of FHA financing. Come and look our houses over . . . and compare. We think you will buy ours . . .

PREVENTION
WEEK
October 9-15

PREVENT FOREST FIRES

Once fire gets "out of hand" the results can be disastrous to property, to life and limb. That's why fire prevention is so important to everybody. Check your home and habits for fire hazards. Stop fires before they start!

1 Be a good house-keeper. Check your home and office... be sure inflammables are stored safely. Remove rubbish, other hazards.

2 Be careful with fire. Use good smoking habits (watch your ash tray) and don't smoke in bed. Keep matches away from children.

3 Have electrical wiring checked to be sure it's adequate to carry the load, and in good condition. Check cords and appliances, too.

4 Be sure your heating system, stoves, hot water heater are in good condition. Have your roofs and chimneys checked, too.

5 Make every effort to prevent fire... but be sure you're protected if fire should strike. Check your fire insurance needs, right now!

Matadors Proclaim First Win of Football Season

By ANN LINCOLN and TOM FERGUSON

The biggest news at Miramonte is "We Won!" Friday the Matador varsity football team rolled over Albany by a score of 13 to 6. This was Miramonte's first victory of the season.

When the gun sounded to end the game, the football players went out of their minds with joy. The team sustained most of their injuries in the five minutes of backslapping and hearty congratulations following the game.

Coaches Brooks and Phillips were hoisted upon the shoulders of the players and paraded around the field. When the players' bus arrived back at Miramonte with everyone still yelling and Wayne Webster's voice echoing through the night, the pool lights were on and the coaches were getting a little apprehensive.

As the team departed from the bus, horns were blaring and everyone present was screaming with joy. Within seconds the players threw off their uniforms and the coaches were rushed. Mr. Brooks and Mr. Phillips were dragged to the edge of the pool with screams of protest from both and thrown in with the team behind. Roz Starkman and Margo Corona, still in their pom pon uniforms, were soon thrown in the pool along with Charlie Ward, Randy Corsi and Mr. Callan. What a night!

Miramonte's next game will be with the Dons from Acalanes next Friday, on the Matador field. Last Thursday the Junior Varsity football team beat Acalanes. Jay Grilli and Mike Gilmore thought that the frosh football team should be mentioned, too, so—Miramonte's freshman football team played their first game of the season with Del Valle yesterday.

Our tennis team also beat Acalanes. The netmen staged their first shutout in history over the Dons.

Fred Houghton has had it kind of rough recently. Last week he was "dismissed" from study hall because he smiled at his neighbor. In physiology Duane Chase makes wisecracks while Fred gets the points taken off. Can't win 'em all, can we, Fred?

Bill Hilger hasn't had much luck in second period study hall either. The first time that he has found his correct seat, according to the teacher, was Friday, September 30.

There's another guy who hasn't had it so good lately. This guy is Rick "Limpy" Layne. They used to call him "Lips," but now it's "Limpy." The first day of football practice Rick broke a bone in his shoulder. When it finally healed he leaped for a pass, thrown by big Duane Chase, and upon landing tore the ligaments in his foot. Limpy has had grox excuses in the past weeks for not doing homework. Actually he isn't slowed down much by his injuries because last Saturday he went with Andy DeGrassi, Sharon Croci and Diana Hotchkiss to the Blackhawk and then to Pine Grove.

Andy DeGrassi got a real hairy after-school job. He cleans up the barber shop at the crossroads.

Doug Hudson tells me that he really hangs for eating dinner at Bob Carpenter's house. It must be the good food. I don't know what they feed guys to give them a laugh like Bob Carpenter has, but it must be a riot. Hey, Bob, what ever happened to that big party that you were going to have last weekend?

Tonight from 8 to 11 the sophomores are putting on their annual dance. The cafeteria will be decorated in true football fashion. Someone suggested, since the name of the dance is the "Foot Ball," that they hang feet from the ceiling, but they decided they might get in the way of people dancing.

By the way, Ray Haywood, did you ever find Laurie?

A couple of weeks ago Grigg DeWitt had a party for about 60 juniors. Many went for a swim during the afternoon. Some like Kitty Mika and Wenda Wilcox didn't have much choice in the matter.

Jim Rose entertained the group with a recording he made previously. He starred as Jungle Jim swinging through the jungle's trees hunting for Griggie the pachyderm. Brad Harlan, just-turned 16, really loaded up on birthday presents.

Grigg's little brothers and their friends tried invading the party but were headed off at the pass by Mr. DeWitt. Sue Nattress almost missed dinner while she was locked up in the dog cage with the DeWitt's big German Shepherd. After dinner many danced and ate some more, but some of the braver ones went swimming.

Doug Hamilton was greeted at his surprise party by being thrown in the pool. Everyone had potato chips and cokes while Doug floundered around for a while. Some of those enjoying themselves were Bill Hamilton, Crissey Voll, Mike Gilmore, Kathy Slattery, Gail Baker, Tevis Thompson, Nancy Allen, Pete Boyle, Lani Freeman, Beth Shepard and Greg Holmes. Everyone danced and ate and when it was time to leave all the girls were thrown into the pool.

Don Kidd's party Friday night was enjoyed by at least half of Miramonte. Cars were parked two blocks in every direction. Some of those there were Pete Yeddia, Roz Starkman, Mary Moorehead, Bob Welch, Roger McCosker, JoAn Scholberg, Chat Soule, Joe Cayting, Hester Harris, Bette Schoppe, Carol Goldsmith, Corbett Kroll, Pat Barnes, Jackie Edinholm, John Reilly, Brian Collins, Kitty Mika, Sharon Nielson, Pat Canfield, Greg Peterson, Janice Fowler and Johnny Cooper.

It seems Dick Stark was pretty tired after carrying Tina Cole three blocks from the Grand Lake Theater to the car. The reason must have been that she was scared because they and Don White and Jan Miller had just seen "The House of Usher."

Saturday night Rick Merriam, Jackie Villata, Ron Kay, Kathy Knudsen, Tom Gaffney, Karen Stafford, Sherry Odenthal and Dwight Thompson went to see a sneak preview in Oakland. They lost Tom in the confusion of trying to find some seats. By then the name of the picture had already been flashed. After seeing an old Bing Crosby movie, they went to Dwight's and had a party.

Enjoying the Cal-Army game Saturday afternoon were Don White, Jonathan Jensen, Barb Smith and Robert Boyle.

The Gilmores left last weekend to fix their cabin, which is just below Edelweiss, for the winter. Carol, Mike and Sue Brown had a wonderful weekend chopping wood, fixing leaks, and scrubbing floors. Sue worked hardest of all, according to Mike, making the beds and doing all the dishes.

Kirk Long Gains Advanced Status

Kirk Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Long, 10 Lombardy Lane, and a senior at Miramonte High School, has been selected to participate in the Accelerated High School Student Program at the University of California during the 1960 fall semester.

He will enroll in History 4A in the College of Letters and Sciences at the Berkeley school. Long's admission to the accelerated program came as a result of his performance in the university's entrance examination.

In a letter of congratulation, James C. Stone, associate director of admissions at the university, informed Long of his admission and explained that on the basis of his performance and that of other students similarly admitted, the university would decide whether to extend the program.

By gaining early admission to college study, a high school student will be able to complete his undergraduate studies in less than the customary four years.

Library Friends Give Librarian Memorial Book

A "Book of Remembrance" was presented recently by Friends of the Library to Sara Malinowsky, Orinda librarian. The leather bound book with specially printed pages records the names of persons in whose memory contributions have been made, and the donors.

A letter is being mailed to all Orinda organizations, according to Mrs. Sorrick, in the hope that in the future their members will take advantage of this way of remembering those whom they wish to honor by a living contribution to the whole community.

Judge Taylor Is President of Welfare Group

Judge Wakefield Taylor of Martinez has been elected president of the new Contra Costa Community Welfare Council which combined the East, West and Central Councils.

This followed several years study of possible cooperation between the three existing councils.

Concerned with the problems of social planning in the fields of health, welfare and youth activities, the coordinated Council will do fact-finding on problems best undertaken on a county-wide basis.

Taylor said, "The continuing population growth and demands for services are straining all the tax-supported and voluntary agencies facilities.

"Problems such as help for senior citizens or teen-agers or the present hue and cry over our Aid to Needy Children program are examples of areas in which professional and lay citizens are working in trying to find answers.

"The combining of our three councils can result in the most efficient use of staff and money allocated to us by the United Crusade for this purpose."

Other officers are Mrs. John G. Kelly of Walnut Creek, Judge Manuel C. Rosa, Jr., of Antioch, and Dr. George J. Paul of San Pablo, vice presidents; Ben Goldberger of Pittsburg, secretary and treasurer.

THE EXECUTIVE Committee will consist of the above mentioned officers plus Mrs. Harmon Howard, Walnut Creek, and Miss Julia B. Combs, members-at-large.

Personnel Committee — Mrs. Kelly, chairman, Miss Lillian Wurzel, Mrs. Meredith Morgan, Jr., Ben Goldberger, and Ralph Harris.

Budget Committee — E. T. Kendrick, Richmond, chairman; Don Morrison, Lafayette; Rev. Palmer Watson, San Pablo; Judge Rose and Dr. Edith Wise.

Teacher Returns From Grad Study

Louis Casey, general science and physics teacher at Miramonte High School, is among the high school science teachers of the area who are bringing back to their classrooms the advanced skills and knowledge gained from a summer of graduate study at Stanford University made possible by fellowships awarded outstanding instructors by the Shell Oil Company.

During the eight-week seminar Casey carried out special projects in the fields of his particular interest—physics, chemistry and advanced mathematics. In addition, he attended lectures given by Nobel Prize Winners Linus Pauling in chemistry and Emilio Segre in physics, as well as visiting research centers in the Bay Area to observe industrial applications of theories being studied.

"I was particularly pleased to be selected for this opportunity to bring my own knowledge up to date, and to insure the students at Miramonte that they are being offered the latest developments as they are uncovered," Casey commented.

Area Graduates Win Awards From UC Alumni Group

Sixteen recent graduates of central county high schools were among University of California freshmen who were honored last week by the Diablo Area California Alumni Scholarship Committee. The students received achievement awards in the form of athletic privilege cards. The awards were presented by Dr. Lloyd Scott, retiring chairman of the Diablo area committee at an informal reception at the Alumni House in Berkeley.

THE BASIS of the award was outstanding scholarship combined with active participation in extra-curricular activities in high school. Each winner was selected by the faculty of his own school. The Diablo area committee is the first of more than 60 such groups throughout California to participate in the new achievement awards program. Most of the money for the awards was raised from among the members of the committee.

Athletic privilege cards enable the students to attend athletic functions at the university for the 1960-61 school year.

LOCAL WINNERS are as follows:

Noted Pianist Will Appear on College Campus

William Corbett Jones, brilliant young American pianist, will appear at St. Mary's College Thursday evening.

The recital will mark the first musical presentation of the school year by the St. Mary's College Committee on Lectures, Art and Music.

Jones has toured widely since his 1954 debut at the San Francisco Museum of Art. Besides numerous recitals across the country, he has appeared five times as soloist with the San Francisco Symphony and has toured the Western states as soloist with the Temianka Little Symphony.

The 31-year-old artist is also a keen student of music. For three consecutive years Jones was recipient of the coveted Alfred Hertz Memorial Scholarship in Music from the University of California. Now a faculty member at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, Jones is preparing for a tour of the East Coast with the Temianka orchestra in April and May of next year.

The recital will take place in Oliver Hall on the St. Mary's campus at 8 p.m.

Orinda Nation of Y Indian Guides Being Organized

The Orinda Nation of the Mt. Diablo YMCA Indian Guide movement held its first organizational meeting last week at the Orinda School.

The organizational Pow Wow, under the direction of Orinda Nation chief, John Pearson, was attended by over 100 father and son groups, and resulted in the inception of six new tribes in the Orinda area. There are now 14 tribes in operation in the five elementary school areas of Orinda.

The YMCA Indian Guide movement is a national organization to foster a better relationship between fathers and their first and second grade boys. It is a strict rule that no son or little brave can attend a meeting without his father or big brave.

During the next two weeks, each new tribe will hold its own introductory meeting to elect officers and discuss future organizational plans. These first meetings will be attended by the fathers only, with the second meeting of the year being devoted to election of little brave officers.

Pearson, the Orinda Nation chief, pointed out that it is not too late for little braves to join a tribe. Any parent who is interested in getting his son into a tribe should contact Pearson at CL 4-8080.

Retirement Costs Will Go Down

Annual county and employee retirement costs will be reduced about $75,000 beginning October 1, Mel F. Nielsen, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, announced.

Special districts which are under the county's retirement system and their employees will also benefit by the lowered costs in the amount of about $50,000 a year, he said.

The county and special district contributions will equal 8.62 per cent of payroll, down from 8.89 per cent, for general members.

THEIR contributions for safety members—deputy sheriffs and firemen—will be 12.85 per cent of payroll, a reduction from 16.35. The contributions of employees will be reduced an average of 2.5 per cent; the employees' individual rates depend upon their age of entrance into the retirement system and their sex.

The amount of interest paid on the county, district and employee contributions will be raised from 3 per cent to 3.5 per cent, Nielsen said.

The changes in the contribution and interest rates result from the legally required five year actuarial review of the retirement system which was made by the firm of Contes, Herfurth & England.

IN ITS REPORT, the actuarial firm indicated that the reductions in cost were possible even though new benefits had been added to the system, Nielsen stated.

A major reason for the reduction, Mr. Nielsen said, lies in the high level of earnings of the retirement fund.

Fund monies, which are invested primarily in utility, industrial and municipal bonds, and the construction of county buildings, are earning in excess of 4 per cent, he added.

The retirement funds are invested by the County Retirement Board, composed of the county treasurer, three members appointed by the Board of Supervisors and three members elected by employees.

United Church Women To Hear SF Student

The annual tea of the United Women of Central Contra Costa County will be held today at 1 p.m. in the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Robert Love is general chairman.

The committee assisting Mrs. Love has women from the Walnut Creek, Alamo and Danville churches.

Members of the committee are the Mesdames Robert Echols, Erving Jansen, Robert Swensen, Edgar Beazor, William Curtis, Al Holden, John Ahman, Anthony Van Westenburg and Perry Brandes.

The tea is in honor of past presidents of the United Church Women, pastors' wives, association presidents and missionaries residing in this area.

The special offering will be used for Migrant Fund Scholarships. Each year a number of college students give their summer to work in the migrant field.

This work is supported by the United Church Women throughout California.

A special guest will be Larry Lee, an 18 year old Oriental student attending City College in San Francisco.

He spent this past summer as a migrant ministry volunteer in the Modesto area as a recipient of a scholarship. He has attended the Donaldina Cameron House in San Francisco, which is a National Mission House under the Presbyterian Church, for the past 13 years.

All women are invited to attend. A nursery will be provided.

'Looting,' Says Senator Miller

Proposition 1 is "legalized looting" of a non-existent Northern California water surplus to deliver it to Southern California which has no shortage of water, State Senator George Miller, Jr., charged today.

The plan to finance a huge transfer of water to the south is the culmination of a 10 year propaganda campaign based on the twin premises of surplus and shortage, the Contra Costa County Senator told an El Cerrito Rotary Club luncheon today.

If enacted into law, he said, it will derange the economy of Northern California and heavily penalize property taxpayers in Contra Costa and throughout the state. Despite the claims of its proponents, he added, the plan has no provision for replacing water to be siphoned from the Delta and no provision to control winter floods.

"There is no surplus of water in the Delta from which the water is to be piped to the Southern San Joaquin Valley and to Southern California," Miller declared.

"There is no shortage in the water now available for the Southern California coastal plain. Southern California is using less than three-fifths of the water to which it is entitled from the Colorado River. Other sources, such as the Owens Valley watershed, are only partially utilized. The only shortage is in the San Diego area and this can be remedied by adjusting present Southern California water supplies."

Soroptimists Hear Arguments About State Measures

Speakers from the League of Women Voters, Mrs. Kathy Brown and Mrs. Kay Long, presented arguments for and against propositions 1 and 15 at last Tuesday's meeting of the Lafayette-Orinda Soroptimist Club.

The Burns-Porter Bond Act which authorizes the sale of $1.75 billion of bonds for systematic development of water resources of the state was summarized by Mrs. Brown.

AMONG other pros, she pointed out that "the bond issue is the only presently feasible solution of the immediate demands for water in central and southern California, and the flood control needed in the north."

Ten years of study and argument have gone into the Burns-Porter Bond Act, she said.

Mrs. Long mentioned that the costs of water in some areas have not been worked out. There may be cheaper ways of obtaining water that have not been properly explored. The legal validity of the act is not assured.

PROPOSITION 15, Senate Reapportionment, establishing 40 Senatorial districts, 20 in the north and 20 in the south, was discussed with arguments for and against.

Mrs. Brown reminded the group that seats in the Senate are now allocated on the basis of area, not people. This results in very unequal representation. A balance would be attained between representation for rural and urban areas, and between north and south.

"This measure was hurriedly conceived, and would destroy needed unity of California," Mrs. Long stated. Among other points against reapportionment she said that "the 20-20 pattern of senatorial seats would be frozen into the Constitution regardless of future changes in population."

A question period followed the speakers' presentations.

Opera 'First' Is Offered

For the first time in its history the San Francisco Opera Tuesday will offer a performance of Belini's "La Sonnambula" in a new production staged by Dino Yanopoulos, designed by Elemer Nagy, and conducted by Francesco Molinari-Pradelli.

Orindan's Cover On Satevepost

Just in case you've wondered, Lonie Bee of Orinda did draw the cover for the current issue of Saturday Evening Post.

Bee, who lives at 145 Las Vegas Road and has an artist's studio in San Francisco, used to draw for magazines about 10 years ago, but this is his first project since then.

THE ARTIST, who first moved to Orinda in 1937, lived in New York several years ago, and since his return here has confined his work to commercial art.

The Post cover is a tempera depicting a group of business executives sitting around a board table watching the World Series on television.

Page 3 of the magazine says the "dispirited models are Giant fans who had hoped to be rooting, rooting, rooting for their home team this week."

BUT BEE explained the picture was completed in July when the Giants were in the thick of the National League pennant race. He added, "I really thought the picture could depict San Franciscans taking time out to watch the Giants in the Series."

He said he hopes to continue doing magazine work on the national level.

Bee used at least one Orindan, Ken Morrish, as a model for the picture.

'Crying Bird' Launches New Audubon Series

"River of the Crying Bird," the first film of the National Audubon Society's series, will be presented in the Diabolo Valley College gymnasium tonight at 8.

Dealing with the life of the Anhinga bird, whose habitat is along the Wakulla River in Florida, this free film-lecture will be narrated by Allan D. Cruickshank, official lecturer for the National Audubon Society.

For 15 successive years, Allan Cruickshank's photographs have been included in "U.S. Camera Yearbook" as among the best of the year, and have appeared in National Geographic Magazine, Nature Magazine, Audubon Magazine, Natural History and Life, as well as in leading newspapers.

He is the author of Birds Around New York City, Summer Birds of Lincoln County, Wings in the Wilderness and Cruickshank's Pocket Guide to Birds, all highly valued by naturalists and teachers.

Friday night's film-lecture will mark the beginning of the Audubon Society's eighteenth annual tour and will be the first of five narrated motion picture programs to be presented on the Diabolo Valley campus this school year.

The four remaining lectures include: "Designs for Survival" by William Anderson on November 28; "Animals at Home and Afield" by Robert C. Hermes on January 30; "Wild Europe" by Roger Tory Peterson on March 14; and "Kiwi Commonwealth" by Patricia E. Witherspoon on April 18.

Presented by the college and the National Audubon Society, the entire series is presented at no charge to the public.

Teacher Beaten By Man in Garage

A young Orinda school teacher was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital Tuesday in serious condition after she was beaten by a man in the garage below her Berkeley apartment.

She was given emergency treatment and then transferred to Franklin Hospital.

According to police officer K. J. Pine, the 27-year-old teacher parked her car in the garage early Tuesday morning and stepped out, when the man appeared from behind a car and grabbed her.

She screamed and fought him, but he succeeded in forcing her back into her car and tried to criminally assault her. She started blowing the car's horn and the noise began to awaken neighbors. The man panicked and struck her with a wrench, making a three-inch cut on her head.

He then ran, and sped away in his car, which was parked nearby.

Meeting Planned For Parents of Retarded Child

All parents of mentally retarded children in the central county have been invited to attend a meeting at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church, 1720 Oakland Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, October 15, in the church parlor. Purpose of the event is to explain the church's program of Christian education for mentally retarded children.

County School Enrollments Spurt Upward

School enrollment in Contra Costa County took an upward spurt with the reopening of classes this September, said County Superintendent Floyd Marchus.

From kindergarten through junior college, the county's public school population now totals 114,500 — a six per cent gain over the September 1959 enrollment of 107,587.

Last year's opening enrollment represented only a four per cent gain over that of the previous year. Numerically, the 1960 beginning enrollment exceeds that of 1959 by 6913, said Dr. Marchus.

Half the county's school population is in the elementary grades — 70,495.

Junior and senior high school enrollment accounted for 39,646 and junior college enrollment for 4362 — 2335 at Diablo Valley College, Concord, and 2033 at Contra Costa College, San Pablo.

By individual districts, growth ranged as high as 31 per cent, as at Moraga, which has consistently experienced a high rate of growth since Utah Construction began large scale residential construction.

Other school districts of high growth were as follows: Pinole Hercules Union, 20 per cent; Contra Costa Junior College, 18 per cent; San Ramon Valley Union High School, 15 per cent; Brentwood Union and Alcatraz Union High School, each 13 per cent; Mt. Diablo Unified secondary (grades 7-12), 12 per cent, and Alameda, 9 per cent.

Go to Church Sunday

Christian Science Baptist

How sickness as well as sin can be overcome through spiritual understanding of God will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda; 1437 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and in Concord at the corner of Grant and Park Streets.

Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at Kahrs Avenue and Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill, and Lafayette meets at 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Teachings of Christ Jesus are featured in the Bible selections which include his admonition concerning the "corrupt tree (which) bringeth forth evil fruit" (Matt. 7:17). The subject of the lesson-sermon is "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

This correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will follow (343:14): "Jesus strips all disguise from error, when his teachings are fully understood. By parable and argument he explains the impossibility of good producing evil; and he also scientifically demonstrates this great fact, proving by what are wrongly called miracles, that sin, sickness and death are beliefs—illusory errors—which he could and did destroy."

Moraga Board Opens Bids On Camino Pablo School

The Moraga School District board of trustees opened bids for construction of the district's proposed Camino Pablo School at a special meeting Tuesday night at the Donald L. Rheem School.

Plans for the new building, which would be the district's second complete facility, call for eight classrooms, and administration section and a library, according to Charles E. Toll, district superintendent.

PAGNI Construction Company of Crockett was low bidder on the project with a total of $288,010. Western Empire Construction Company of Walnut Creek was second with a total of $299,550 and Kirkham-Chaon, also of Walnut Creek, were high with $235,085.

Toll reported that all three bids were below the maximum established for the project by the State Department of Finance. He added, however, that the Moraga board has taken the bids under advisement until formal state approval is received.

The new facility, to be located on Camino Pablo in the Orchard Dell area, will be completed by the fall of 1961, according to Toll.

AT PRESENT, he said, the district has an all-time high enrollment of 363 students, and the first, second and third grades are on double session.

The superintendent explained that with the enrollment increase the district will have to move up to a five-man governing board as of July 1, 1961, replacing the present three-man board.

The state uses a cut-off figure of 300 enrollment as the basis for distinguishing between a three-man and a five-man governing board, he stated. Toll said the larger board will be elected at the April election.

Trustees at Moraga Will Conduct Monthly Curriculum Discussions

The Moraga School Board held its first regular monthly meeting devoted to the curriculum of the school Monday night.

Up until this time the governing board held one regular meeting a month at which it conducted all business of the school. Now it is scheduling a second regular monthly meeting because the business of the school is getting too much to conduct at one meeting.

DON FALCONER and Rex Collings were the board members presiding at the meeting. Falconer, the chairman, explained to the 16 interested parents who were attending, the purpose of the newly scheduled meetings and asked for suggestions which parents would like to have discussed at these meetings in the future.

Many suggestions were offered by the parents. The board felt that the best method of getting some of these questions answered might be to have a committee formed to do the investigation and research and then report to the board on the findings.

Falconer was authorized to appoint members to this committee. He invited interested parents to let their willingness to serve on this committee be known to him. He stated that he would appoint members at a later date.

CHARLES TOLL, principal and superintendent, presented the changes in the standardized testing program of the school district. The testing program will provide for giving mental maturity tests in grades three, five and seven. Achievement tests will be given to grades three through eight.

A new report card design was shown to the board. This report card was developed with the teachers over the past year. Estimates for printing costs are being asked from several companies before a final decision on printing is made.

Robert Trask, assistant principal, presented to the board the state requirements of subject matter and the time requirements established by the state.

A BREAKDOWN of the amount of time which the Moraga School District spends in these areas was then presented by Trask. It was shown that in all cases the district exceeded the state minimum requirements.

Where the State requirements are 50 per cent for the six basic subjects, the Moraga School District was spending 72 per cent to 74 per cent in grades one to three, 62 per cent to 65 per cent in grades four through six.

In grades seven and eight the state requires a minimum of 600 minutes and the district was spending over 1000 minutes on these basic subjects.

The school board now is meeting regularly two evenings a month starting at 7:30 p.m. The regular meetings are held on the first and third Mondays of each month—the first Monday's meeting will attend to matters of curriculum and the third Monday's meeting for the purpose of dealing with the regular business.

A Deplorable Attitude on The Part of PT&T...

It's nice to have that neighborly feeling, when the big business firms in town join to help make this a better place to live.

But sometimes neighborliness becomes a tendency to run things. We didn't say control things, but sometimes you wonder.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph is not just a private enterprise—it is a public utility. This gives them the enjoyable position of having a duty to make money—a position which they point out carefully and frequently when they raise their rates.

But PT&T is also a member of our community. So, what is good for our community is generally good for PT&T. We presume that PT&T is a responsible organization, but we are rather amazed at a recent incident. This particular incident occurred in Lafayette, but it certainly applies to every community in Central Contra Costa County.

LAFAYETTE IS attempting to improve its business district by providing adequate lighting. The community proposes to do this through the formation of a special county services district where the property owners—in the business district only—will pay the cost for improvements which will actually benefit the entire community.

Then we see the amazing antics of aforementioned PT&T where their East Bay officials have said that they will not cooperate.

They said that they would not go along with the petition which is being signed by other property owners at this time.

Fine, but they didn't stop there.

REPRESENTATIVES of the telephone company went to county officials in Martinez and, behind the back of the local community, told them that they will oppose the district.

Since that time—and since this has come out in the open—San Francisco officials of PT&T have said that they would withhold judgement until later.

This brings us to an interesting speculation. By extension, then, are we to presume that the next time we seek a school bond election, that PT&T will oppose it? Or, possibly, a tax increase through a local district which will benefit the entire community?

We don't recall that PT&T opposed the sanitary district bond issue recently, or even the formation of that district some years ago. But they are opposing the formation of this district.

IF WE NEED better water services, or roads, or sewers, or flood control, or additional services, is PT&T going to oppose these measures on the grounds that their tax rates will go up?

Well, our tax rates would increase too, but all of these things are measures which will benefit the community, and therefore benefit PT&T just as much.

PT&T says it does not want to get into a district unless it benefits by it. A lot of people feel the same way about flood control, especially if they live on top of a hill.

But flood control is necessary just the same and the whole community benefits through increased property values, better businesses and services.

PT&T has property in each of our communities and is therefore vitally interested in their progress and growth.

It is not what PT&T did in this instance, but the way in which they did it. It might just be pointed out that PT&T is in the enviable position of being insured a return on its money... something those of you who are in private business do not enjoy.

BUT IN THE long run it behooves us all to note that we pay the bills for PT&T. It eventually comes right out of the old pocket book via the telephone bill route.

So it doesn't make too much sense for PT&T to object to a project which will benefit the entire community on a "cost" basis when actually, the local people pay the bills!

As mentioned before, this same kind of thing happens in all our communities.

We have established a parking district in Walnut Creek to which PT&T did not object, nor did it object when the Little Master Plan was formulated. Then why the objections now?

Frankly, it is not consistent, and perhaps it was just an error on PT&T's part. But it is deplorable just the same, and we hope it is not indicative of a general policy on the part of PT&T.

might object, and this should be remembered when the time for decision comes.

While we are reserving our final judgement until the administrator's report comes in, we look favorably upon this measure. County Administrator Joseph McBrien is an expert in government administration and reorganization and his opinion should be invaluable.

IT WOULD APPEAR that through the court mergers there would not only be a saving of money, but that it would clearly furnish better government.

It is absurd that with our modern highways we should have judges every few miles down the road. L. E. Carbert, president of the taxpayers association, pointed out that this county has more municipal and justice courts than any other in the state except Los Angeles and San Bernardino. He also pointed out that it has been the experience of other counties that people are willing to travel an extra mile or two to represent the savings inherent in consolidating the courts.

The board has ordered this report. We hope that it expects an answer and that it was not just a political maneuver. But the eventual answer is, nevertheless, the board's responsibility.

termination time when every auto lost its occupants to the thrilling sight of a tiny light flashing past all of the stars in the black sky.

This was at about 9:30 p.m. — not a bad hour for people to stand in the streets looking up for what appeared to be no reason at all.

BUT AT MIDNIGHT there were still some central county residents awake enough to hear another radio broadcast which announced that the satellite would be passing over the area within a few minutes.

In one of the central county's residential areas an entire family stood in front of a typical residence for about 10 minutes before the wandering satellite was found.

Then, as the family members continued following Echo I, a small foreign auto zipped around the corner, screeched to a halt and then backed up.

A stranger leaped from the vehicle and asked quickly, "Can you see it? I was beginning to think it was just propaganda."

THE MAN WAS shown where the satellite was. Once assured, he said, "Well, I'll be darned," and hurried back to his auto.

We're still trying to determine the identity of our new friend, even though the acquaintance was short-lived.

The only moral to this tale is that in matters of space it does not appear that the United States is standing still—except when a satellite passes overhead.

We Like It Here... The End-of-Season Corn As October Wins Welcome

By MARIE MONAHAN

WE LIKE IT HERE... especially in October! We do not mind that summer is all over... NOT when a bracing breeze accompanies us on a walk... & yellow goldenrod nods greetings from its stalk.

OCTOBER! When year begins to wear Autumnal frown... & maple leaves are turning scarlet, brown.

THE SUN sends down a soothing warm embrace & finds a pensive smile upon the face of young mother whose last child has started school, to learn his ABC's & Golden Rule.

The counters in the stores already feature all kinds of costumes for each Halloween night creature... WHEN herds of little misses, little britches, will turn up on the threshold, PIRATES, WITCHES!

When on their rounds, young people will be meeting, to forego candy for UNICEF AFS Trick or Treating... OCTOBER just can't move fast enough for anxious goblin, spooky ghost...

For pom-poms, pennants & the dash for favorite team's goal post!

HOLD OCTOBER! Hold that line... While pumpkins ripen on the vine!

Dear Merchants in the stores, it's much preferred, if displays of tinsel, ornaments were patiently deferred at LEAST until the start of month November...

September scarcely gives up time to relax, remember... & now you have us doing a 50-yard dash into December!

Give the change of season then a CHEER For 31 days let's keep it here!

OCTOBER! When party invitations come a-flying & on our feet at parties, we are DYING!

While politely, read hostess, we are TRYING not to show it, but everybody else attending also KNOWS IT... that the party season has been launched too fastly.

By December we may, if the pace continues, all feel ghastly, VASTLY!

But we like it here! AWAKENED BY a skylark's song, a dawning bright...

Then bedded down by comforter of feather fog in yawning night.

OCTOBER with its Harvest moon, its Harvest time... When apples, grapes & pears are in their prime & white sheets whip like windblown sails upon the line... Except for code id dose, the changing climate is fine!

OCTOBER... with mums in bloom & zinnias zooming, PTA & Cubs resuming...

We start the day with oatmeal & hot brew... & end the day with bowls of steaming stew... which we prefer with dumplings. You do, too?

OCTOBER... when those out campaigning, are mighty glad, Folks, it's not raining!

WHEN SCENT of fresh-baked cookies fill the air... & churches hold Bazaar or Autumn Fair & students over homework brains are straining.

When 'round the dinner table family all area early there, to set a chair, light the candles, say a prayer...

OCTOBER! We like you here!

Letters to The Editor

RELIGION

Dear Editor:

We are so tired of this ridiculous discussion of whether or not Senator Kennedy will make the best president contingent upon his religious affiliation.

It would be too bad to think that a child loses his right to become the highest representative of the United States the day he is baptized a Catholic.

Equally as shameful, if a man cannot seek spiritual guidance from his pastor, minister, or rabbi while in political office due to political opinion when he may be in most need of spiritual advice.

THERE ARE chiefs of staff in every category whose advice is sought by the Chief Executive.

Thank goodness the birth control issue came up during President Eisenhower's administration or surely Pope John would have been the "demon behind the decision."

Sure, there are some Catholics who will vote for Kennedy because... and many more who will vote against him because...

Both are guided by prejudice. There are always those who find it too burdensome to think over the real issues affecting our country in selecting their political candidates.

WE CATHOLICS are reminded at election times to consider the problems and exercise our privilege to vote. Use our intelligence, make our decisions, and VOTE! Never how, or for whom.

Hurray for A. F. Wrazel and Lee Pollard, who pointed out issues in their letters to the editor! Our thinking seems to coincide with Mr. Pollard's.

The Democratic platform glows with the give-away policy of F. D. R. both in foreign and domestic affairs.

BILL and NATALIE RUSSELL.

MORE SCHOOLS

Dear Editor:

Shortly after I mailed the letter to you last week, I received a copy of your June 17 editorial praising the school staff. Needless to say, such expressions are sufficiently rare that I dare not let this one pass without a word of appreciation.

We hear many teachers fretting about a "hostile press" in their communities. I'm sure the teachers in your area appreciate the kind of support they receive from your publication.

HARRY A. FOSDICK, California Teachers Association

Up, Up, Up Go Double Sessions!

Accompanying a fresh upsurge in enrollment, the number of children on double session in Contra Costa County schools has increased 43 per cent since last spring—up from 1816 to 2595.

Mt. Diablo Unified leads the list of eight districts having double session, with a total of 1144 children in the first four grades.

The district's enrollment increased by nearly 2000.

Moraga School District, which experienced a 31 per cent gain in September enrollment over a year ago, has 148 of its total enrollment of 360 on double session.

Double session is restricted to the first three grades.

Other districts include: Pinole-Hercules Union District, 127 in grades 3-4; Pittsburg Unified, 436 in grades 2-3; Richmond City, 245 in grades 1-2; San Pablo, 136 in grade 1; Sheldon, 65 in grades 2-3; and Walnut Creek, 294, grades 1-2.

Under The Sun Join the Rover Boy On Varied Impressions

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Today is the last column on "The Rover Boys in the Far East."

Permit me to give you a few final impressions of the three weeks' press tour. As you know, 14 radio and newsmen from the West Coast were flown to Korea, Japan, Okinawa, Philippines, Hawaii and Formosa to study U.S. defenses in these areas.

Incidentally, each man paid all his expenses, except air travel, which obviously is the largest item. We were flown by an excellent crew in a Military Air Transport Service plane.

Here are a few notes, ideas and impressions:

As we flew from nation to nation, we became tangled and confused in the use of different currency, exchange rates and regulations.

Whan, yen, pesos

In unstabilized, inflationary Korea $1 is worth about 650 Whan. But on the street, money changers offered 1100 Whan. At U.S. military installations, however, we could use only "Military Payment Certificates"—military money purchased with "Green"—U.S. money.

Japan is stabilized at 360 yen to $1; Philippines 3 pesos to $1; Hong Kong about 5.57 to $1; in Formosa 40 to $1.

English is spoken throughout the Far East but occasionally I got into a bind.

I enjoyed using "please, thank you, I'm sorry, etc." in the language of each country. And the people had a great laugh at my linguistic attempts at even these simple words. A smile, nod or bow goes a long way in talking to Lei Chong or Ramon Osmena.

To build more houses?

At nearly every military briefing (and we had at least 20), great stress was placed on the problem of housing servicemen's families. In fact, next to planning actual fighting operations, maintaining supplies, etc., this is THE major problem.

Being 1) ready to fight and 2) housing of military families are related.

If a pilot lives three miles from Clark Field in the Philippines and has no phone, how can he be summoned to man his Starfighter 104 in case of an attack? Yes, alert crews sit in the "alert hut" at all times, but you can see the problem.

This, however, is not all the story. Here's Staff Sergeant Joe Brown, a highly-trained electronics technician. He has a wife and three kids. They live in a paper-walled Japanese house near Fuchi Air Base—no heating, no hot water, poor or no sewage systems, no sidewalks, rough roads. In winter the temperature in Japan drops to around 32 degrees. The kids are constantly sick. For this they pay as high as $80, plus utilities.

Will he reenlist?

Sergeant and Mrs. Brown are devoted to the service. This is their career. But how long will they put up with these conditions, when he can double or triple his salary doing the same work for private industry in a cozy house in Walnut Creek?

And after this tour of duty, followed by one in the States, they may again have equally bad housing in Okinawa or Philippines.

True, the government pays to move them. (My opinion is they are moved too often: Airmen's families stay two years in most Pacific areas.) True, Uncle Sam may help them with furniture, rent allowances, spraying the neighborhood with DDT. True, after eight months they may be able to move to housing on the base. However, they might have had to wait eight months before Mrs. Brown was even able to come to Japan because of no housing.

True, you and I lived in punk quarters during World War II. But we were "in" for just a few years, not for a lifetime. If we want high-caliber men in our forces, we must face this problem.

Congress at the moment is tough on building military houses.

The other side of the story

And they should be.

There are two sides to this story. Some housing units recently on government land cost $23,000 each! Some have been built where they aren't needed. Congressmen frown on spending millions in foreign areas from which our forces may move in a few years—or be forced out.

I don't know what the answer is. The military needs housing. The answer could be privately-financed housing, as is now being proposed.

What about the men in our armed forces?

The top men seemed very able, as they should be. These generals and admirals command thousands of men, spend millions and may have your future in their hands. These and other officers were friendly, down-to-earth men. Only very few were aloof, autocratic, militaristic, looking down on the civilian world. The Navy in particular had more of the stuffy kind of officer.

The billion dollar question:

Is there a unified command in the Pacific and how well does it work?

Yes, the entire Pacific is under Admiral Felt, with the Army, Navy and Air Force under him.

At the top, I would guess it works rather well, but not too well at lower levels. For example, on Okinawa Lt. General Donald Booth is the High Commissioner and top ranking officer but he does not command the Air Force, Navy or Marines.

Booth and three others form a joint committee to make decisions. But will this committee have time to meet in a grave emergency that demands immediate action?

Inter-service rivalry is ever-present. Even the Navy sea dogs dislike the up-and-coming Navy Airmen. There is waste even within the same service. For example, Military Air Transport Service is established to move cargo and men and yet, in the Japanese area, the 313th Air Division duplicates this effort within the theater.

I cite the above because I'm going to repeat an old idea: Put all services in one uniform to help unify them, make them more efficient, reduce waste. Let's not spend less dollars on the military; let's save money and spend what we save on research and new weapons.

Keeping up with the Joneses

No doubt there is waste in the armed forces but, after travelling nearly 17,000 miles, I can appreciate the unbelievable job they are doing. I have trouble guiding the small Sun staff. How would you or I do commanding the entire Pacific area—or part of it? They are doing a good job.

What about our State Department staffs at Pacific embassies? The U.S. Diplomats are suave, able, smooth talkers, but I wonder how close they really get to know the people and the country in which they are located.

I'm at the bottom of the column and have a few paragraphs to go, so I'll save them for next week.

The Staff Corner Can You Really See It?

By LARRY GLAZIER

All this talk about space satellites, forthcoming trips to the moon and the like is beginning to leave its mark on nearly every community in the nation.

Even residents of the central county are beginning to react rather strangely in light of the large number of man-made objects which are hurtling about in the stratosphere.

ECHO I, the United States' talking satellite which was sent into orbit several weeks ago, is part of our American way of life by now, but when it was new Americans could be found accepting it as a young child would a new toy.

Take, for example, the night every radio and television station in the Bay Area carried itemized and detailed schedules of the new satellite's trip over the Northern California area.

These schedules, if you remember, were broadcast and telecast every half hour so that no average suburbanite could fail to know of at least one of Echo's passages over our fair Bay region.

Well, on this particular summery Wednesday morning, a large number of autos crowded the Pleasant Hill drive in theatre, supposedly to see a twin bill rated "better than average."

THIS WAS NOT the case, however. What the people really came to see was Echo I free of all encumbrances in the sky, such as telephone poles, power lines, rooftops, etc.

The few people who did travel to the motor movie to see the pair of films caught the neck-straining disease at in-

Lock That Barn Door...

What would you do if your house burned to the ground tomorrow?

That may sound like a far-fetched question, because it "couldn't happen to you," but this might just not be the case.

It has been The Sun's unfortunate duty during the past year to carry several stories on homes that burned down throughout the area. And what made it even more tragic is that there were several deaths involved.

These were not isolated cases, either. Which brings to the fore one inescapable fact: Fires can and do happen, and it could happen to you.

THERE ARE SEVERAL approaches to the problem. One question you might ask yourself is:

"What have you done to protect yourself and your family?"

One answer, of course, is education. This may sound like the usual editorial "chatter," but consider seriously if you and your family would know what to do if a fire were to break out in your main hall right now.

Who is the one who will call the fire department? Do the members of your family know what to do, and do they each have an assigned task in case of fire?

Here are a couple of suggestions which might interest you:

BE SURE TO set a meeting place outside the house as a check-in point where the "chief" can determine if everyone escaped.

Once your home fire drill plan is completed, occasional practice drills should be held.

And in case of fire: Collect your wits, be calm, and remember your plan. If the fire breaks out at night, don't open a door until you've felt it with your hand. If it's hot, don't open it.

IF YOU HAVE to go out a window, and it sticks, break it with a shoe or a piece of furniture, not your hand. Don't stop to rescue any belongings.

And of course, get out of the house first, then call the fire department!

Just a reminder, in case of fire. Do you have sufficient fire insurance? The value of your home has probably gone up since you last checked your insurance, and it might be a good idea to reevaluate it. Also, have you taken an inventory of your personal belongings for insurance property?

But best of all. Lock the barn door before somebody steals the horse.

Sydne Rogers Honored at Vacation Tea

A Vacation Tea, honoring Sydne Rogers, prior to her entrance to Stanford University on September 21, was given recently by her mother, Mrs. John Rogers at their residence on the Danville Highway, Walnut Creek.

A pink and white color theme was carried out in both the floral arrangements and the gowns of Mrs. Rogers and her daughter. For the occasion, Miss Rogers chose a gown of pink embroidered cotton. She carried a bouquet of pink baby roses and bouvardia. Mrs. Rogers was gowned in white silk linen.

Roses, gladioli and stock decorated the living room and dining room, while the garden portion of the house was done in fall colors. Among the 75 guests who attended were childhood friends of Miss Rogers, former classmates and old family friends.

Serving as co-hostesses at the tea were the Mesdames E. A. White, R. L. Bridges, C. P. Pond, Jr., Van W. Rosenthal, John P. Symes, Fletcher Taylor, Russell Brickell and Mrs. Lynfield H. Arata, who is Miss Rogers' aunt.

Miss Rogers, who will return to the area for the Thanksgiving holiday graduated in June with honors from Las Lomas High School. She was the winner of the Walnut Creek Lion's Club Student Speaker Contest and went on to win at the District level at Hoberg's.

Annual Inspiration Tea Is Friday

"Dr. and Mrs. James F. Erickson and son, Timmy, are now officially a family, another adoption successfully completed by Children's Home Society!"

So begins the film "The Story of an Adoption," the theme of Rocking Horse Chapter's annual Inspiration Tea to be held next Friday at 2 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Roger W. Souza, 31 Los Ranchitos Way, Walnut Creek.

In honor of the chapter's associate members, the gathering will serve to interpret the services of Children's Home Society of California, the largest private adoption agency in the country, to women interested in the field of adoption from the standpoint of volunteer work.

In "The Story of Adoption," Betty was barely seventeen, a senior in high school, active in the youth activities in her church but unmarried. The father of her unborn child was 2000 miles away, just beginning his second year of college.

The solution giving new courage to this frightened girl, the foster care of the baby, and the creation of a new family are warmly told in a narration to be delivered by Mrs. Francis Hickey, Northern California Director of Volunteers for Children's Home Society.

Mrs. Hickey will be introduced by Mrs. H. Lawton, Rocking Horse Chapter President.

According to program chairman, Mrs. Don Hutchinson, associate members attending are: Mrs. M. LeProtti of Orinda; Mrs. R. R. Righetti and Mrs. Joseph Stuart, Lafayette, and Mrs. George Krueger, Concord.

The list of guests includes: the Mesdames David Shelver, Donald Miller, William Bishop, Glen Farrey and Gerald Weiland, Walnut Creek; L. S. Helmei, Hal Mack, and Robert W. Wyman, Danville; Ken McNair Carnahan, Concord; Merrill Olsen, Bruce Rosemond, Eric F. Curtis, Loren Mowrey, P. S. Grimes and William Tieman, Orinda; Larry Kirk, Rick Joachim and Erwin Marshall, Lafayette.

Anyone interested in attending the tea to become acquainted with the aims of Rocking Horse Chapter of Children's Home Society, may contact Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Lawton, or Mrs. Walter Tibbitts, Jr., AT 4-4042.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar of Orinda Community Church recently for the four o'clock wedding of Marjory L. Brunk and Robert R. Ross.

Flowers enhanced the loveliness of the wedding throughout the church and at the reception. The nuptial of the church was beautiful with sprays of gold orchids and white chrysanthemums and gladioli.

At the reception there were a number of flower arrangements in white, dramatized by the use of Renaissance candles.

Reverend Chauncey Blossom performed the ceremony, for which the bride was escorted to the altar by her father, Willys O. Brunk. She wore a gown of chantilly lace over tulle and taffeta with fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline.

Her full length sleeves were tapered over the wrists. The gown was embroidered with opalescent sequins and pearl, with a bouffant skirt which swept to the floor.

A lace crown touched with pearls and sequins held the bride's fingertip veil in place. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and white rosebuds.

Virginia Brunk was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Henry Moyler, Maureen Connors and Leslie Anne Brunk, junior bridesmaid, sister of the bride.

The bridal attendants wore gowns of blue green taffeta with fitted bodices and wide cummerbunds. Their bouffant skirts were street length, and they wore matching accessories.

An old fashioned nosegay of gold carnations with green ribbons fashioned the maid of honor's bouquet. The bridesmaid carried similar bouquets of yellow carnations.

Richard Hammond of Moraga was best man. Seating the guests were Gary Beeman, Bruce Stallworth, James Little, Jerry Freitas and as junior usher, Billy Ross, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Brunk wore a gown of soft blue silk organza over taffeta with an embroidered fitted bodice, full skirt in soft pleats and matching blue accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. Beige, softly printed and touched with sequins, was the choice of Mrs. Elaine Ross, mother of the groom. She wore a corsage of brown orchids.

For her going away costume the bride chose a Delft blue suit with matching jewelry, black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

After a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, the newlyweds will be at home at 5975 Keith Avenue, Oakland. Both plan to continue their schooling this winter.

'Tish' Winkworth Is Still Stagestruck

This Lady Loves Theater; Teaches Jr. Dramateurs

By JEAN JERNIGAN

Stage struck from the time she could walk and talk, Mrs. F. B. Winkworth of 14 Valley Drive, Orinda, is the stimulating senior advisor for the Junior Dramateurs and a partner in the Dramateurs School for Young People.

Putting on plays and taking part in school dramas as a child, Tish Winkworth said of her background, "I went to the University of Michigan for a year, but I couldn't wait to specialize in drama, so I left and attended the Goodman School of Theater in Chicago."

AFTER DRAMA school, Mrs. Winkworth soon became a professional actress working in stock companies in the east, and later as a radio actress.

Always interested in the theater, Mrs. Winkworth and her partner, Mrs. Alice Swenning from Berkeley, recognized the need in this area for a school where young people could receive training in the theater.

The Dramateurs School for Young People has been in operation about a year, with the Junior Dramateurs forming last summer.

"The adult Dramateurs meet the second Monday of the month at the Lafayette Town Hall," she remarked, "and the Junior Dramateurs meet there on the fourth Monday."

"YOUNGSTERS interested in attending the Dramateurs School for Young People may contact me. We have an active group of youngsters ranging from 12 to 17 years of age and meet each Saturday morning in consecutive series of ten week sessions."

Tish and Bruce Winkworth have lived in Orinda for ten years and have found their work with the Dramateurs a very happy experience. "We have met many young married couples who share our interest in the theater," she said, "and most of our social life now centers around Dramateur events and the friends we have made on these occasions."

Mother of four daughters, Julie, 14; Kitty, 13; Marnie, 9, and Kimberly, who is three, Mrs. Winkworth has also been active with school affairs. Before becoming so involved with the Dramateurs, she served as chairman for the Orinda Parents' Club annual review.

GAILY admitting, "I'm dreadful at domestic art, I'm the most undomestic person I know," Mrs. Winkworth still manages to keep her husband and daughters happy and content. "Only one child so far, Kitty, has inherited her mother's love for the theater."

Together the family likes to go camping and bowling, and they all share an interest in their dog, Ginger, a red setter, and a parakeet. Mrs. Winkworth is also interested in art, particularly ceramic sculpture.

"I used to do more with this," she commented, "but now I am so busy with the school and the Junior Dramateurs that there is not much time left for anything else."

"There is little offered in the public schools for youngsters interested in the theater. Usually they have little opportunity for study in this field until their last two years of high school."

"The demand exists in our community and I am spending most of my time working with these enthusiastic youngsters. We learn about lighting, set design, makeup, producing, all the various facets of the theater, including acting."

"It is a wonderful experience working with these young people, and I love every minute of it," she enthusiastically concluded.

CRUISE, anyone? The Catholic Social Service Auxiliary will sponsor a "Night with Noah" tomorrow, which will include a cruise around the bay, dinner, dancing and fun. The ships will leave Jack London Square at 7:30 p.m. Pretty crew members are Mrs. Leo Kieny, left, publicity chairman and Mrs. James O. Ring, entertainment chairman.

Alpha Lambda Chapter To Attend Conclave

The sixty-fourth conclave of Omega Nu Sorority will be held October 14, 15 and 16 in Oroville, California. Alpha Beta Chapter in that city will host the conference, with headquarters in Prospectors' Village.

Members of Alpha Lambda Chapter in Walnut Creek attending this year are Mesdames Muriel Alexander, John B. Anderson, Theodore Matthiesen, Charles W. Nickel, Edward L. Slater and Richard Woodruff.

Mrs. Slater will be installed as the Incoming Grand President for 1961.

Some two hundred delegates and their husbands will attend this conclave where they will hear the Annual Report for 1960 and discuss the many charitable functions held by all the California Chapters. These functions which involved thousands of hours of volunteer labor produced approximately $20,000.

Is Still Stagestruck

Family Room Requirement Is Hard-Wearing Floor

The basic decorative requirement for the recreation or family room is carefree ability to take hard wear. Floor coverings, especially, must be able to take hard wear and require a minimum of maintenance if the family's recreation is to be truly relaxed.

Prime favorites for the flooring of the modern recreation room are resilient rubber and solid vinyl. Architects consider these long-wearing aristocrats of the flooring family as structural elements; colors go all the way through, so can't rub off. And, best of all, the debris from an uninhibited party can be removed speedily with just a damp mop. Both rubber and solid vinyl have the additional advantage of muffling sound.

It is easy to give a custom look to the floor that will be in tune with the family hobbies. Both rubber and solid vinyl are easy to cut in custom shapes with a rubber flooring knife; and, nowadays, feature strips and special insets are available in such profusion, that the distinctive pattern of the flooring need be limited only by the designer's own ingenuity.

There are more than a thousand different shades to choose from and an enormous number of textures and fascinating abstract patterns. You can design your rubber or solid vinyl flooring to look exactly like wood planks, terrazzo or traditional marble, for example. Solid vinyl in metallic patterns will even give the illusion of a floor paved with gold in fairy tale fashion.

Since the main feature of the recreation family room is ability to withstand wear, not only the flooring but all the furnishings should be practical as well as good looking.

BASEBOARD PAINTING

Avoid painting the floor along with the baseboard, by using a small strip of thin cardboard as a shield. Move the shield along the floor, following the brush as it moves along the baseboard. Spillage will be caught by the cardboard, not the floor.

BLADE HOLDS SCREWS

If screw must be started in a hard-to-get-at location, use tape over the tip of a screwdriver to wedge screw tightly onto blade tip. Layers of paper may also be used to accomplish the trick.

Good Lighting Can Make Home Happy, Livable

Ever stop to think how important good lighting is in your home? Not just good light to see by and to prevent accidents—that's a must—but lighting which makes your home more attractive and you more comfortable.

Give your house a quick check and then see how you answer these key questions:

1. Do your rooms have strong light and dark contrast in them? Bright lights and deep shadows are distracting and hard on the eyes. This subtle discomfort can cause you to become nervous and ill at ease, even though you aren't aware of it. The remedy? Plan enough general lighting to give pleasant over-all illumination. You can accomplish it in a number of ways—one popular way is to use cornices, coves and valances to direct light up or down over broad surfaces such as walls or draperies. Or you can use luminous ceilings. To have comfortable over-all lighting for all occasions, you can use light brightness controls.

2. DO YOU HAVE light for specific seeing tasks, like reading and sewing? Be sure you have the right light at the right place for good vision. Lamps are usually best for this, so make sure they're tall enough and with big light shades to give plenty of light over the whole visual work area—you don't want to slouch to see, nor do you want distracting shadows in the work areas.

3. Do your lights glare? Whenever possible you should not be aware of the source of the light—naked glaring bulbs are uncomfortable; this also applies to cornice, cove and valance lighting.

4. Can you adjust your lighting to any occasion or mood? Flexibility is the key to interesting lighting—light brightness controls let you vary the light to suit your needs and personality. For instance, when you have a few guests in your living room, low soft lights provide pleasant comfortable atmosphere; when you're entertaining a larger group, brighter lights—well distributed—help keep things moving.

5. DO YOU HAVE all the light you need in the bathroom for applying makeup—can your husband easily see to get a good clean shave? Then can you adjust these lights comfortably low for night time?

6. Is your lighting planned to bring out the beauty of your home? In addition to lighting for mood and comfort, you can do much with decorative lighting—from lighting gardens to high-lighting unusual features in your house like prize paintings.

Fireplace of Stone Lends Distinction

In an age of look-alike housing developments the home with distinctive decorative features immediately commands a better resale price. One of the most practical ways to give an elegant custom decorated look to an ordinary room is to install a natural stone fireplace wall.

Nowadays, a great variety of textures and colors in quarried stone are available in pre-cut, lightweight modular shapes that are practical for use in interior decoration. A fireplace unit can be built into almost any type of house and usually more than pays for installation costs by enhancing the resale value of the house.

LIMESTONE, bluestone, sandstone, granite, quartzite, travertine and marble offer the home decorator a variety of colors ranging from pastel pinks and yellows to deep blues and purples and charcoal greys and jet blacks. Textures range from deep corrugated effects to highly polished surfaces.

Many interior designers are using the ceiling-high fireplace wall of natural stone as a prime focal point of decoration for the whole room.

In line with the trend of bringing the outdoors in, decorators suggest choosing a type of stone for the interior wall that matches or complements the color and texture of exterior stone walls. Extension screws make it practical to use the interior wall of stone as a background for plant shelves, mirrors or objets d'art, arranged in interesting composition with the textured stone background.

DESIGNERS give particular attention to co-ordinating the texture of upholstery and drapery fabrics. There is literally no limit to the variety of design used by interior decorators in creating elegantly distinctive stone fireplaces. Contrasting borders of polished stone are frequently utilized to dramatize the ribbed or rugged texture of the fireplace construction. Geometric designs or random type ashlar patterns are suggested to add to the importance of the fireplace as the dominant decorative element in the room.

The use of natural stone for interior floors to match stone paved patios is another decorative technique borrowed from the palaces of ancient Greece and Rome, which modern interior designers are adapting successfully to contemporary homes to create an air of elegant distinction at modest cost.

Adding Bathrooms Is Easy In Most Modern Dwellings

Every bedroom deserves a bathroom, say the home planning experts, and this convenient arrangement need not wait for a "dream" house of the future.

In fact, with the latest developments in bathroom and product designs, it probably can be had quite easily in your present home. It's not out of the question even if you live in an old, one-bathroom house.

THE TRICK lies in making full use of all available space. An area under the stairs may be perfect for an extra powder room on the first floor. A roomy, old-fashioned closet upstairs might yield the necessary footage for an extra lavatory, powder room or complete bathroom. A back hall off the kitchen could house a "mud room" for washing up after work or play in the yard. And, lavatory-dressing tables can be installed right in the bedrooms.

Don't forget your present bathroom, either. Even if it measures as little as 9 x 12 feet, you can transform the area into a one-and-a-half bathroom arrangement or two complete bathrooms.

If your bathroom is still small, you may increase its usefulness by adding a fixture or two.

The installation of twin lavatories or the small home dental lavatory can go a long way to solving morning and evening bottlenecks in this all-important room. And, by building partitions, you can insure complete privacy, as well as multiple use of all your bathroom fixtures.

IF AVAILABLE space measures 10' x 12', you can install two complete bathrooms in the most economical of all arrangements—with the toilet, lavatory and bathtub in each room installed against a common wall. This places all six fixtures close to waste and supply pipes, thus lessening the amount of costly piping needed.

If your present bathroom measures 9' x 12', you may transform it into two complete bathrooms by using the American-Standard Restal in one bathroom. This compact tub, measuring only 38" x 39", takes no more space than most shower stalls, yet provides combined bath and shower facilities.

You may choose a bath-and-a-half arrangement. Suggested layouts of this type include the partitioning of one tub in a room of its own easily accessible from two powder room areas.

Retaining Walls Help

Given the choice between sloping and level sites for a garden, most of us, no doubt, would choose the latter. Trouble is, the choice is seldom available. We take what we can get at the price and location which fits our needs.

Those of us who end up with the sloping lots, however, have plenty of company—particularly in Northern California. And there is solace to be found in the fact that countless gardeners actually prefer a change of contour. The reason: a sloping site can be much more interesting.

SLOPES, gentle and otherwise, challenge the gardener. Like Mount Everest, they invite conquest and yield a high return of satisfaction to the man or woman who succeeds in conquering them.

The first area of attack on any plunging site is the area immediately surrounding the house. On a mild slope, there is no problem terracing a suitable area in both front and back for living in and moving about the yard. On a steep site, certain major changes are often called for.

A deck built over the void will extend a narrow living area. The steep slope dropping down to house level should be retained as far back from the house as possible without making an uncomfortably high retaining wall necessary.

California Association of Nurserymen members suggest that a series of low retaining walls is much preferred over one tall one in most cases.

Multiple retaining walls offer unlimited opportunities for landscaping. The gardener can make lavish use of trailing material, both flowering and non-flowering.

Birds Often Are Beneficial to Most Gardeners

You find gardeners in every neighborhood who complain about birds. And to many a man, they always cite the visible damage which some few of our feathered friends have wrought from time to time.

We'd like to dissent from this viewpoint, and we're sure a majority of gardeners will join us. You don't measure a book by its cover, and you shouldn't measure a bird by the occasional buds or berries he eats. There is actually a great deal of benefit to be derived from providing a sanctuary for birds.

IF YOU ARE like most of us, you enjoy the constant comings and goings of birds. You enjoy their songs and take real pleasure in recognizing a familiar call or in identifying a newcomer to the garden.

These you recognize as very real assets, but there are even more tangible benefits to be considered.

Bulbs Top The Planting List For This Month

Here are suggestions for the gardener this week:

Bulbs top the planting list this month. Daffodils and tulips are prolific color producers and should be used extensively.

Lawns can still be planted in most areas. For maximum seed germination, be sure to keep moist.

Annuals should go in without delay to get winter color.

Certain Shrubs Give More Than Their Share to Land

Sooner or later it dawns on every gardener that certain shrubs contribute more than their share to the garden scene. You may notice this first in your own garden or in that of a neighbor.

More than likely you will notice how much professional landscapers rely on certain shrubs to landscape public parks and buildings.

Among these journeyman shrubs, which any member of the California Association of Nurserymen can show you, none deserves more attention than escallonia. You can't fault this durable standby no matter how hard you try.

MEMBERS of the escallonia tribe can be found at seashore where they bear the brunt of wind and spray or in formal gardens, where improvements of the breed make them perfectly adapted.

In the latter situation, look for the varieties Gwendolyn Anley, which bears light pink blooms, and C. F. Ball, a red bloomer. The flowers are small and delicate, profusely borne in summer and early fall.

Nor can we find many experienced gardeners who don't include the Glossy Abelia on their lists of versatile shrubs. You see this one flowering happily through summer after summer of neglect in many public places.

AND YOU CAN make good use of its glossy foliage and small, white-to-pink trumpet blooms that come en masse each summer and linger well into fall. A copper tinge to the foliage in fall adds interest to this fine border or foundation shrub.

Two others—one a non-bloomer, one prolific in its color—should also be included with our journeyman shrubs. The non-bloomer is Evergreen Euonymus, a light green shrub, often sold with variegated leaves. It is ideal in a border planting where it forms a full informal hedge to 8 or 10 feet high.

The other is India Hawthorne, a lovely compact shrub for foundation plantings that bears delicate masses of pink or red flowers in spring, which give way to clusters of black berries in summer and fall. We'd have to rate this one at the top of our list of favorite shrubs, journeyman or no.

Three Final Practice Games on Tap Tonight

Both Local Leagues Will Have Close Grid Races

By ERWIN MATTON

League play starts next week and it looks to be a close race as far as the Foothill and Contra Costa Leagues are concerned.

It is interesting to note that every team in the Foothill League has been beaten once or more. In the Contra Costa Division, Pittsburg and Clayton Valley are undefeated to date, but the "dopesters" still figure Mt. Diablo is the team to beat.

The Pittsburg-Diablo tilt will probably decide this one. One thing certain is that Pittsburg no longer dominates the grid picture as it once did, which is probably good for the league and, in the long run, good for Pittsburg.

In the Foothill Division, figures and games played show that no one club is so dominant that it can let down in any one game without the serious liability of suffering a loss.

The biggest problem that coaches have is that of getting eleven players that will really work together.

For some strange and often sadistic reason Dame Nature made it so that people have a time getting along with one another. Get a few together and it usually isn't long before jealousies and feuds arise.

If eleven players on a team get together and pull together they are going to be a good ball club even if they have only average ability. The problem is to get eleven to do it.

I had the good fortune to speak at a testimonial held for Donna deVarona last Friday at Stanley School in Lafayette and as a result I reviewed her record in the short 2½ years she has been at the water sport.

Her brief record was climaxed when she set a world's record in the nationals in the individual medley and wound up on Uncle Sam's Olympic women's swimming team.

The thing that amazes is some of her times compared to the gold old days.

For example, she broke at the age of 13 the time in the 400-meter freestyle set by the famed Johnny Weissmuller by four seconds.

We always hear and talk about the good old days, but the fact remains that athletic performers like everyone else have moved ahead and when you compare the new times with the old it is a rather startling revelation.

Diablo Devils Romp to 27-14 Win at Acalanes

Last Friday night was a cold one for the fans and the Acalanes Dons, but the Mt. Diablo Red Devils brought their own heat as they trimmed the hosts, 27-14, in a practice game.

The Devils proved to be a well-balanced ball club, spearheaded by a pair of hard-driving backs in Tom Brown and Dwaine Adams.

ADAMS CLIMAXED a first quarter scoring drive that went 65 yards in nine plays when he skirted end for the touchdown on a 12-yard run. It was 7-0 when quarterback Marty Piscovich hit Adams in the end zone for the extra point.

The Dons came back to knot the count as quarterback Tom

Strain lobbed a perfect pass to end Doug Inman, who took it into pay dirt on the dead run—the play covering 30 yards. Strain split the uprights for point No. 7. A Don fumble on their own 17 gave Diablo possession and a second quarter touchdown as Brown rolled up the middle on the first play to score and cracked off tackle for the extra point.

DIABLO RACKED up a pair of touchdowns and a conversion point to wind up the game's scoring in the third quarter.

With the 27-7, the Dons came back with a passing game and hit for their second touchdown when Strain capitalized on a bad pass from center by passing to end Jim Rinne standing just in the end zone 40 yards away.

Matadors Break Ice with 13-6 Victory at Albany

The Miramonte Matadors proved to be too tough a foe for the Albany Cougars as the Orinda club found the winning combination, 13-6.

The game played last Friday at Albany found Miramonte posting 13 points in the second period of play after a scoreless first quarter.

THE MATS had problems in the early stages of the game as the Cougars twice drove deep into Miramonte territory only to fall short on the crucial fourth down.

Miramonte scored first when end Jack Gilbert grabbed a pass and rolled to the end zone untouched, the play covering the final 20 yards of a 61-yard drive. The placement kick was blocked, but the Matadors were soon knocking at the door again when a pass interception gave them possession and a 37-yard run by halfback Bob Boyle plus a 15-yard penalty put them on Albany's 22.

A SCREEN PASS from Bob Hilger to Carl Ogden put the ball on the one and Boyle took it over tackle for the six points.

Guard Jack Putman made good on the conversion kick after missing the first try.

The win was a big one for the Mats and marked their second in three years of varsity ball. They played a good steady brand of ball and indicated they will be ready for the Acalanes league opener next Friday afternoon.

Rams Upset Champion Piedmont Clan, 14-13

The Pleasant Hill Rams came up with a big one last Friday night when they toppled the Piedmont Highlanders, 14-13.

The Rams went into the game as underdogs, but emerged as the winners when dogged determination turned back the Clan, which had all the better of the statistics but fell short in the only place that really counts—the scoreboard.

Pleasant Hill took the lead in the second quarter when halfback Jim Stephenson picked off a Clan aerial and scored in seven plays from Piedmont's 28-yard line. Fullback Tom Foster bulled his way over from one yard out and Lenn White kicked the conversion.

Halfback Dave Moore got a big one for the Rams as the 126-pound mite hit through a broken field for a 69-yard scoring jaunt. White once again made good on the kick for what proved to be the game's winning margin.

Piedmont had 214 yards rushing to the Rams' 111 and had 77 yards on 13 passes to six yards for the Rams on four passes.

Las Lomas Knights Lose To Clayton Valley, 6-0

The Las Lomas Knights failed to score in their game with the Clayton Valley Eagles last Friday night and as a result ended up on the short end of the count, 6-0.

The two clubs battled through a 0-0 first half, with Clayton Valley getting the big one in the third quarter.

Gordy Martindale proved to be the Eagles' big gun when he tallied after Clayton's halfback, Tim Morgan, recovered a Knight fumble on the Las Lomas 7-yard line.

The win kept Clayton Valley undefeated as they have whipped Miramonte, San Ramon and Las Lomas in that order.

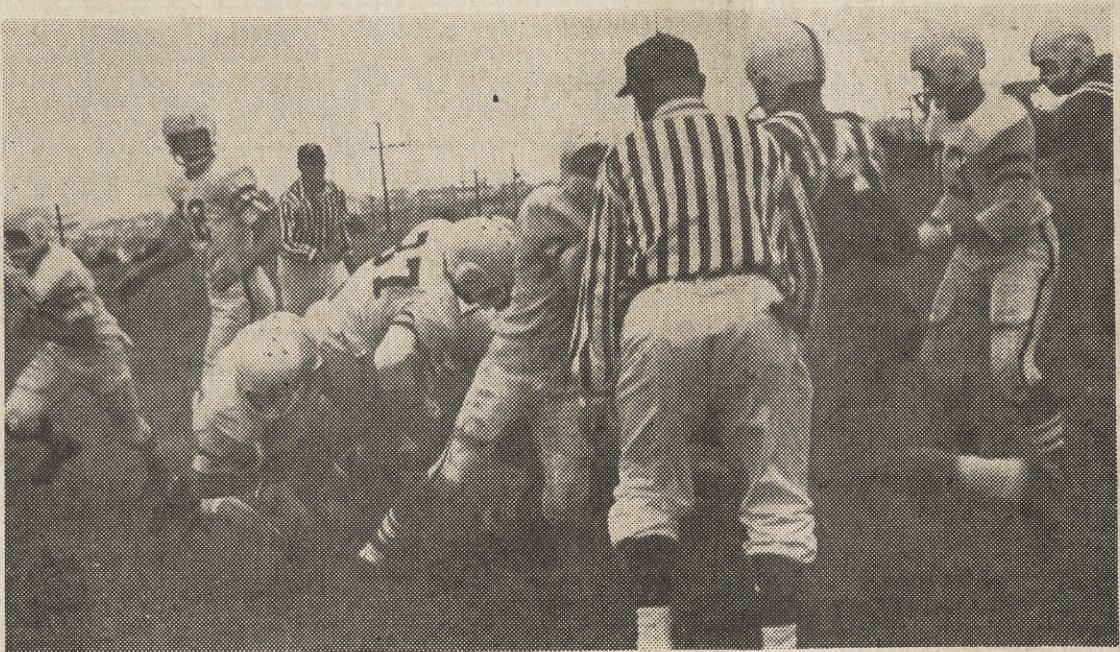

Las Lomas now has a win over Mt. Diablo along with a pair of losses to Pleasant Hill and Clayton Valley.

MIRAMONTE'S margin of victory for the first time in a varsity game this season came as Bob Boyle (left, kneeling) scored a touchdown to give the Matadors a 13-6 win at Albany last Friday. The touchdown was scored in the second quarter as the second half became a defensive battle. Other white-shirted Mats in the photo are guard Bill Stevens (87), quarterback Bill Hilger (12) and tackle Jack Putman (73).

Old Professor Won't Give Up Despite Miscues

By SOSS OPPLÉ

It must have been the cold weather last week that fouled up the Olde Prof as he found himself in trouble with his picks.

It really looks like a rough season, particularly if the weather doesn't warm up. One thing certain is he can't miss on Las Lomas, Miramonte and San Ramon this week as they sit this one out, having already used up their allotted quota of practice games—three to be exact.

Pleasant Hill plays practice game number four tonight, and to date they have a pair of wins against a lone loss.

The Rams have been a consistent ball club, and while they haven't put but five touchdowns on the scoreboard they have had but four scored against them. Looking deep down in the crystal ball and taking a double check on the electronic screen, it's Rams 19, Fremont 13.

Acalanes plays a good club in unbeaten Clayton Valley. Clayton Valley has come up with a spread offense as have the Dons. This could be a wide open game and it's Acalanes over the Eagles, 20-19.

Alhambra plays Mt. Diablo, and while this has been a season of upsets, don't look for one here. Look for Alhambra to take to the air early and often as the heavy and capable Diablo line spells trouble.

The Devils are loaded with hard running backs and enough of an air game with Marty Piscovich doing the tossing to keep the defense honest. Tab the Red Devils, 30-6.

In the Pop Warner League, the big one is on tap this week as the Contra Costa Pioneers meet the LaMorinda Thunderbirds in Orinda Sunday afternoon.

The Pioneers rate the edge on experience and record to date by a decisive margin. It's the Pioneers after a close first quarter, 26-6.

In college circles, Cal makes another home appearance and by some strange reasoning are picked to up-end visiting Washington State.

Last week the Golden Bears were out-fought and, strangely enough, out-thought by an Army team that turned a 10-0 halftime deficit into a win by virtue of flanker and man-in-motion maneuvers that gave the Bears fits if that's the name for a confused effort.

Washington State plays a wide open game and are always hungry when they come looking for Bear. The dope bucket is upset—Washington State 20, Cal, 10. (Their best play is a field goal. P.S. I hope some of the Bears read this and get mad, or should I say angry.)

Stanford gets whipped by Washington, 30-14, while Cactus Jack Curtice gives out with a bit of philosophy. The Indians, like Cal, are getting too used to losing, and either one would consider a tie in the Big Game a win!

The 49ers find one they can whip in Detroit and rack them up, 32-20, while the Raiders continue to have tough sledding as Dallas drops them, 27-14.

STORING SHELLAC Shellac keeps better in glass jars, rather than in cans. It should, however, be discarded after six months.

San Ramon Impresses as Foothill JV Play Opens

The Foothill Junior Varsity League play opened last weekend and when the final gun sounded Las Lomas, Miramonte and San Ramon were in the winners' corner to tie for the lead in the league standings.

In the game played at Las Lomas, Piedmont scored after taking the opening kickoff to take a short-lived 6-0 lead. The Knight eleven bounced back to take a 7-6 lead when halfback Stan Nankevil took the ball over on a short run and fullback Otto "Scoop" Schatz made the conversion on a plunge.

BRUCE SALVESON, a small but shifty halfback, got off a run for what appeared to be a score only to have it called back. But he came through later with another big six points for the Knights on a short run.

Schatz put the "frosting on the cake" as he bucked over the extra point to end the scoring and give the Las Lomas club the 14-6 win.

Miramonte, running hard and effectively, played a tough first half to defeat the Acalanes Dons, 14-0.

Steve Miller, playing defensive end, caught an Acalanes back in the end zone for the game's first two points on a safety, and he added another six when he operated from the fullback spot to hit pay dirt from two yards out.

MIRAMONTE'S quarterback, Mike Koenig, wound up the game's scoring in the first half as he went over the goal line on a sneak from one yard out.

San Ramon served notice that they are to be contended with as they romped at will over a hapless Alhambra eleven for a 32-6 win.

Del Valle drew a bye in league play, but looked impressive as they rolled to a 34-7 win over Terra Linda. The Trojans took a 27-0 halftime lead with the visitors scoring only when Coach Jerry Bellon had substituted freely in order to give all hands game experience.

THE BIG GUN in the Trojan attack was Bill O'Toole, who racked up three touchdowns on a 30-yard pass-run play along with 8 and 12-yard gallops. He added two more conversion points on a pass from Bob Kovats and a run.

Fullback Mal Cameron hit pay dirt on a four-yard drive up the middle and ran the extra point try over, while Rick Townsend added an extra point on a line buck after scoring on a reverse from 14 yards out.

Walnut Hills Course Will Open in About 60 Days

A new golf and country club in Lafayette, Walnut Hills Country Club, will be completed and open for use in a little over 60 days, it was announced today by Wayne Freeland, vice-president of Club Associates, Inc., operators of the new country club.

The new club, 2100 Reliez Valley Road, was originally developed by Casa Blanca Golf Course, Inc., which owns and operates golf clubs throughout the United States.

A NEW 18-hole "short" golf course is now being laid down for leisurely play which entailed the excavation and reappportionment of 200,000 yards of earth. Designed for the entire family, the new country club has three swimming pools, a gigantic Olympic size pool, a free form pool for diving and an intermediate pool for children.

The clubhouse also is being remodeled and designed for both luxury and use for all family activities.

ACCORDING to Freeland, year around special activities will be developed and organized for members and their families by the club's management.

Active memberships, and a few life memberships, are now being accepted, but dues will not go into effect until the golf course is completed, Freeland explained.

League Openers for Prep Gridders Are Next Week

Coaches Fred Houston of San Ramon, Duane Louis of Las Lomas and Bob Brooks of Miramonte drew byes this weekend in the Foothill League as their squads have their three practice games behind them.

The three central county coaches are spending their time this week "mending the fences" and planning strategy for the league openers that are on tap for next weekend.

IT IS interesting to note that not one club in the newly-created Foothill League is undefeated in varsity play and all except San Ramon have one or more wins under their belt.

Acalanes looked good in their opener but were knocked back on their haunches when Diablo, riding high and hard, downed them last Friday night, 27-14.

The Dons play Clayton Valley tonight, as the Eagles are coming off a game which they pulled out of the hat by upsetting Las Lomas, 6-0, after going into the game as the definite underdog.

THE DONS have proven that they can explode offensively with some fine running backs in Tony LaRosa, Stew Fox and Chris Rinne, along with the sharp-shooting arm of quarterback Tom Strain. The question mark is the defensive play, which has been inconsistent.

Clayton Valley has toppled Miramonte, San Ramon and Las Lomas to date. Their big question mark is whether they can dump the Dons, who on paper at least have the potential.

Don Coaches Bob Stevens and Buzz Williams have been working overtime getting ready for this one and have placed particular emphasis on defensive play. Game time is 8 p.m. today under the Acalanes lights.

COACH BOB Muentner has had his Piedmont clan on the go all week as he has been oiling the grid machine and hoping they have the statistics as well as the score in their favor when they play an 8 p.m. game at Burlingame today.

Last week the Piedmont eleven was upset by a fighting Pleasant Hill club that was outgained in yardage, but was tough on defense where it counted most—inside the 20—and it paid off with a 14-13 victory.

Burlingame has had but one game and while they held a big edge in rushing and passing, they dropped a 7-6 decision to Riordan of San Francisco.

PIEDMONT rates an edge with more game experience and a fine balanced ball club that promises to be "up" after last week's upset.

Pleasant Hill has won two out of three so far after toppling Las Lomas, 6-0, and Piedmont, 14-13, while losing to Acalanes, 14-12.

The Rams host Fremont of Oakland tonight and the competition appears to be keen as the city eleven racked up a good DeAnza High club last week, 20-6.

Pleasant Hill Coach Hal Briggs reports all hands in good shape and the spirit high.

LAST WEEK it was bad news when ace sophomore quarterback Nelson Shelton was sidelined with flu, but it's good news this week as he returns to the fold fit as a fiddle and ready to play.

Fortunately, the Rams are "rich" in the quarterback department having an able and capable senior in Archie Allison.

The Rams have come a long way in a season that was supposed to be a low one due to the loss of players via graduation as well as to the new College Park High which opened its doors for the first time this fall.

Game time is 8 p.m., with the Pleasant Hill gridiron the scene of action.

Viks Open League Play

The Diablo Valley College Vikings will still be seeking their first win of the 1960 season when they meet the Foothill College Owls from Mountain View on the Pleasant Hill High School field tomorrow night.

After losing two thrilling practice games, 12-6, to Contra Costa and 22-20 to Santa Rosa, the Vikings will go into their Coast Conference league opener hoping to have corrected the ball handling difficulties which have plagued them thus far.

Against Santa Rosa last Saturday night, the Viks fumbled five times and had three passes intercepted during a disastrous first half.

3 Even Games Open Frosh Slate In Foothill Loop

The freshman teams of the Foothill League opened their 1960 season with three games on tap last Thursday, as the Del Valle Trojan Babes drew a 'bye.

This year looms as a close one in competition as all three winners last week won by identical 6-0 scores, and all were consistent in that no one made good on the conversion try.

San Ramon won as they toppled the Alhambra Bullpups in a game played at Martinez. The Las Lomas Knights rode to a 6-0 win over Piedmont with the tally coming with less than two minutes on the clock.

Acalanes scored in the first quarter when a long run put them deep in Miramonte territory and the six points followed on a pass-run play.

Residents Participate In Scout Council Event

Twenty different Scouting skills will be "shown and done" on the Showando Trail by Boy Scout leaders at Mt. Diablo Council's Showando, being held at Camp Herms in El Cerrito tomorrow, according to John S. Youmans, director of training.

Leonard Darwin of Danville is director of the Showando training program for Scout leaders, and he listed the following area men as chairmen of their respective stations in the program:

FERD RUTH, Walnut Creek, nature trail; Dave Lercari, Lafayette, packs and packing; and Hamilton Stevenson, Orinda, duel contests.

In addition to the Showando Trail, the morning session will have the "Worth Tryin' Arena," including demonstrations in tracking pit, monkey bridge, plaster costs, tower construction, pioneering, pack boards, sun dials, Kim's Game, a survival kit, patrol flags, leaf prints and can craft.

In the afternoon, following a nosebag lunch, a competitive Showando Rally will take place. This event will show how the newly acquired skills can be turned into fun games for instructing Boy Scouts.

UNDER THE guidance of experts, each Scouter will learn how to prepare and will then cook his own supper wrapped in aluminum foil. A campfire program will conclude the day's events by "showing and doing" the things that make effective programs for boys at a troop campfire.

A patrol of men from each troop is the plan of operation for the event. Each patrol is assigned to a provisional troop, and in the afternoon the patrols compete against each other.

The Showando is now required training for the Scouters' Training Awards and the Scouters' Key for Scoutmasters.

Famed OOM-PAH-Pahists Will Highlight Birthday

RCA Victor Records unleashed upon an unsuspecting world a long-playing record album bearing the succinct title of "Music for Non-Thinkers," and featuring the Guckenheimer Sauerkraut Band, which will play at the Broadway Birthday Party October 14, 7 to 9 p.m.

The Guckenheimers, nine men strong, are a study in San Francisco "firsts." But unlike the earthquake and the Gold Rush of '49, there isn't the slightest indication from the Guckenheimers that they will pass from the Golden Gate scene.

WRONG THINKERS to the contrary, an unusual number of normally upright citizens have taken the band's quaintly sour Bavarian melodies to heart, and the enthusiasm of these good burghers bids fair to immortalize Fritz Guckenheimer's unique interpretation of German folk music.

Bearing in mind this healthy interest in anti-egghead music, it will be well to note several important facts about the Guckenheimers and their activities.

The whole thing began back in 1948 when Richard Gump, head of the world famed Gump's store in San Francisco, lamented the fact that the celebration of Christmas was considerably marred by the inroads of commercialism.

Gump (an artist, author, serious composer, and highly successful businessman) heard vociferous agreement from several other citizens of Sausalito.

AND IN A surprisingly short time an impromptu German band appeared on street corners throughout the Bay Area. They played a little Wagner, a little Strauss, a little Bach, and a little off-key. What the band lacked in harmonic precision it made up for in enthusiasm.

And the bandmen were as surprised as the San Franciscans to find that everyone from toddlers to greying grandmas bounced to their fractured Teutonic beat.

Thus were the Guckenheimers born.

Lots of Parking In Broadway; And It's Handy

"You never need to worry about parking in the Broadway Shopping Center, said George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association. "Broadway Merchants have been careful to see that there is plenty of parking space, and this includes the big lot behind Capwells, and sizeable lots next to Lucky Store, behind Penney's and south of the Broadway Pharmacy. "There are more than 2000 stalls, and you can find a place near where you plan to shop," he said.

"Peak hour parking is never a problem, either. When one area fills up, there are the others to choose from."

Mental Health Groups Merge for More Funds

Approval for the formation of a countrywide Mental Health Association was given at a joint meeting of the executive committees of the Central Contra Costa Mental Health Association and the West Contra Costa Mental Health Association.

Speaking for the Central Contra Costa Association, President B. O. Wilson said, "We are happy about the amalgamation of the organizations for many reasons."

"To begin with the added funds that the Contra Costa United Crusade will make available to the enlarged organization will make it possible to broaden our program and thereby assist many more persons in the communities throughout Contra Costa."

"THE IMPROVED services can also be achieved more effectively and more economically by one strong organization. All in all I'm convinced that this new association will insure far more gains than the former isolated organizations have been able to achieve."

The countywide association will arrange volunteer mental health programs to extended public information and education; plays and other promotional means; speakers bureau and films; hospital visitation programs; rehabilitations and other important facets of mental health.

Sponsorship of programs initiated by the National Association for Mental Health and the California Mental Health Association will also be supported by the new organization.

Another outcome of this decision relates to the assumption of responsibility for the staffing of the Community Mental Health Coordinating Committee.

THE USUAL meeting of the Coordinating Committee will be postponed to further notice. However, delegates from organizations with mental health interests will be kept informed through the Mental Health News Bulletin.

Proposed programming for the new organizations will be sent to all officers and members of the former associations in addition to the interested public it was further decided at the meeting.

Officers of the Central Association present were B. O. Wilson, president; Mrs. Gilbert Mead, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Love, treasurer; Harold Mutnick, legal counsel; Mrs. Thomas Mackenzie, executive director.

Needle in Haystack Is Fascinating Fun!

Needle in the haystack, one of thousands of other fine prizes, the key attractions of the Broadway Birthday party, is one of the most fascinating and rewarding games ever to be brought to the central county area, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association. The game is fun and it's easy to play, Webster explained. Here's how it works: Thousands of dulled needles will be placed in a haystack. Any person who pulls out a needle, which changes color when it is dipped into a special solution, wins a prize and there will be a prize a minute, Webster added. The top prize will be a stereo-phonie console and there will be thousands of other fine prizes, Webster commented.

After the person with the needle, which has changed color, steps over to the Broadway Board of Gifts, they dip into the treasure chest and pull out a sealed envelope.

"In it will be instructions indicating the prize and what store it is in," Webster noted.

"It's easy and fun, tickets to participate in the Broadway Needle in the Haystack are available at all participating stores.

"Don't forget tickets will be available all during the Broadway Birthday celebration.

The needle in a haystack event will be in full swing October 21 and 22," Webster concluded.

Free Cake, Drinks at Birthday

Refreshments, all free of charge, will be served during the Broadway Shopping Center's Birthday Party October 14.

Three locations will be serving delicious birthday cake, coffee and chocolate milk from 7 until 9 p.m.

In addition to the three locations serving refreshments, there will be the music of the famous Guckenhimer Sourkraut German Band.

The refreshments will be served in front of the Lucky Food Store, in front of Anita Shop and in front of the Broadway Pharmacy.

New Style In Business Shirts

The newly styled business shirts will be instrumental in adding a new lift to the Fall fashion scene, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, having been fashioned for easy combining with either patterned or plain clothing.

Starting at the neckline, the news is that shirt collars are shorter this Fall.

There are narrowed spreads to be worn without pins, some really wide spreads copied from the British, and some shorter button-down collars.

Blunt and rounded ends have been added to newly interpreted tabs and pin-tabs with angled or cut-away fronts.

There is also a fresh approach to shirt colorings this season—the latest being "a hint of a tint." These are pale pastel shades in ivory, pink, blue, gray and — a newcomer — a greenish-gray-tan called "loden."

These are balanced in the color scale by deep-tone chambrays and the end-on-ends which met with such ready acceptance after their introduction that they may turn into a major style trend.

Look for the many new British stripings keyed to the developing English trend in clothing and sportswear styles. These are tailored in the traditional tabs, tabless tabs and, of course, in the wide British spread collars.

Air Force Reservists Get Assignments

Two local Air Force officers assigned to the 9441st Air Reserve Squadron, Walnut Creek, have received mobilization assignments to the Air Material Command.

The assignment places them in a ready reserve status, eligible for recall in case of a national emergency.

Major Robert W. Patrick, Walnut Creek, was assigned to the Sacramento Air Material Area, Oakland Army Installation as a production procurement staff officer.

Captain Marvin McArthur, Pleasant Hill, received assignment orders to the San Bernardino Air Material Area, Norton Air Force Base, Calif., as a personnel staff officer.

Both reserve officers will continue their inactive duty training at the local Air Reserve Squadron Headquarters at 2040 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

Sport Coats --Weighty Problem?

Sports coats offer a weighty problem for Fall 1960, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear.

Weighty That's right—because the average fellow will have to decide whether he wants a light-weight shetland or tweed, or one of the newly revived heavyweight kempy tweeds.

The simplest solution might be to buy one of each because it is no longer possible for a single sports jacket to meet all needs.

This problem might be further complicated by the fact that just about every wardrobe today requires a blazer in a classic flannel or colorful hopstacking.

After making his choice of weights, the fellow in quest of a sports jacket must then decide on colors and patterns.

Starting with powerfully patterned plaids and tartans, he can work his way down the design scale to more modest plaids, bold checks, medium checks, mini-checks, overplaids, stripes, self-patterns and solids.

Olive, brindle and gold shades in sports coatings are among the current fashion favorites and these are well supplemented by browns, grays, blues and some polychromatic blends that defy description.

Grape accents, mostly in restrained decorative effects are also among the brand new offerings. Even the simple shades take on a new look because of the new color blends which lend added depth to the fabrics and get away from the old "flat" look.

Look for more patch pockets—some with flaps, "roomier" styling that retains the slim look, and, of course, a selection of models as great, if not greater, than that to be found in suits.

Party's Added Bonus Is Needle in Haystack

Visitors to the Broadway birthday celebration will get an added bonus when they dig out special needles in a giant haystack which will be located in front of the Lucky Food Store in Broadway, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The Needle in a Haystack will be October 21 and 22, but tickets for the event will be available at all Broadway stores during the entire birthday celebration, Webster said.

Only visitors to the celebration who are over 16 years of age will be eligible to play the fascinating game, Webster noted.

"There will be a prize given away every minute and the top prize will be a stereophonic console," Webster declared.

The Broadway birthday party will also feature a performance by the famous Guckenheimer Sauerkraut German Concert Band on October 14 from 7 to 9 p.m. and traditional birthday cake and refreshments will be served free of charge during the concert.

Free merry-go-round rides will also be featured during the birthday festival.

Broadway Shops Open 2 Nights

Stores in the Broadway Shopping Center are open two nights a week every week, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Stores in the center are open on Monday and Friday nights so that the whole family will have plenty of time to go shopping, Webster added.

County Sewer District Viewed By Supervisors

A county-wide sanitation district to insure that future development of sewage facilities conform with the Contra Costa County master plan is contemplated by the Board of Supervisors.

Thomas McMorro, county sanitarian, and Jack Port, head of the Public Works Department sewage, waste and water division, outlined the proposal.

It would require state legislative action.

The supervisors consideration of the new plan followed their dismissal of proceedings to form a County Sanitation District 10-A, in southern San Ramon Valley.

Protests representing at least 51 per cent of the property in the proposed district, were received.

The area concerned is just west of the Volk-McLain subdivision, which straddles the Alameda-Contra Costa boundary line.

Board Chairman Mel Nielsen of Lafayette said he hopes the people in that area won't regret their opposition, and added, "Now they will have to deal with a private corporation and a sanitary district governed by Alameda County voters."

Nejedly Plans Proposals for U.S. Congress

District Attorney John Nejedly is preparing proposed legislation for submission to U.S. Congress to "strengthen" the Aid to Needy Children program in California.

"Under the present law," said Nejedly, "the State of California is, in many instances, bound to conform with the requirements of existing federal Social Security legislation."

The result is that even though the California Legislature would deem it wise to remedy certain phases of the State's Aid to Needy Children welfare program, they are nevertheless precluded from doing so because of the ominous threat of effective Federal control in the way of withdrawal of government funds if the states do not conform to the Social Security law.

Nejedly said, "It is extremely unlikely that the authors of the 'Aid to Dependent Children Act' envisioned the frightening proportions to which this activity would grow."

However, rather than attempting to exert some control in the field of welfare, and as an example of the trend toward extreme liberalization in this area, the Federal Advisory Committee on Public Assistance in Washington recently recommended that all residence requirements for welfare aid recipients be eliminated, he said.

This would mean that a family qualifying under the Aid to Dependent Children program would be immediately entitled to financial assistance instead of establishing eligibility by a one-year residence requirement now in effect.

"It is obvious that such liberal legislation would result in a population boom in our state which would make the population increase during the California gold rush sink into insignificance," said Nejedly.

Registration Ends for State College

Registration at the Contra Costa center for Alameda County State College ended yesterday, it was announced today by Director of Admissions Dr. Lyle Edmison.

The five state college courses will be given at Diablo Valley College for residence credit.

Edmison said that students may register and pay fees during the first class meeting. Tuition for six or fewer units is $12.

The classes will meet as follows: Evaluation in Education, 6:40 to 10 p.m. on Tuesdays; The Short Story, 6:40 to 10 p.m. on Wednesdays; Child Growth and Development, 7 to 9:45 p.m. on Wednesdays; Curriculum Development, 7 to 9:45 p.m. on Thursdays; and Advanced Language Arts in the Elementary Schools, 7 to 9:45 p.m. on Mondays.

Students must have completed approximately two years of college work for admission to classes.

Certificates Awarded by UC Extension

Three area men have earned certificates in production management from the University of California extension.

They are Salvatore Curiel of 17 Laird Drive, Moraga; Eldon Parsons of 50 Meadow View Road, Orinda, and William Szymanski of 1316 Rudgear Road, Walnut Creek.

Exciting Events Due In Broadway Birthday!

"The birthday party which will be remembered for many a year to come will get underway with a bang at the Broadway Shopping Center, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

"The birthday all stores in the center will be celebrating is Broadway's own birthday and there will be a multitude of events to make Broadway's birthday a real success," Webster added.

Included in the birthday celebration are a Needle in the Haystack contest, a concert by the famous Guckenheimer Sourkraut German Band and refreshments will be served free of charge in the center.

The traditional birthday cake will also be distributed free of charge to visitors, Webster commented.

The top prize in the Needle in the Haystack contest is a stereophonic console and there will be a present given away every minute of the contest, Webster continued.

The Guckenheimer band will appear at the center October 14 from 7 to 9 p.m. and the refreshments will be passed out as the band plays, the manager said.

The Needle in the Haystack event will be October 21 and 22 and tickets to participate in the event will be handed out at all participating stores, Webster concluded.
